BODY OF MISSING JAS. EAGAN FOUND FLOATING IN THE BAY

EVERYTHING POINTS TO SUICIDE

Well-Known Clubman Missing Since July 6.

From Where He Was Employed Had Offered Reward of $2000 for Information to Clear Up Mystery of His Disappearance.

(Special to The Tribune)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 24—James E. Eagan, agent and bookkeeper for the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, of 719 Market street, who dropped completely out of sight on Monday, July 6, was either accidentally drowned in the bay or else committed suicide by throwing himself into its waters. His dead body was recovered at 9 o'clock this morning by Antonio Corasano floating in the waters of the bay near Meigs wharf.

There were no marks of violence on the body and nothing which would seem to show that there had been any foul play in connection with the man's death. His appearance seemed to indicate that he had been in the water almost since the day he was reported missing.

There were no papers or letters or anything to identify him in his pockets, but two members of the firm, H. H. Gernish and W. Smith called at the coroner's office and positively identified the remains.

POCKETS WERE EMPTY
The lack of personal papers or belongings in the man's pockets would seem to indicate that he committed suicide but as his friends say he was in the habit of going off on excursions by himself, it is possible that he may have been accidentally drowned.

The officials of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company are authority for the statement that his accounts were absolutely correct. A reward of $2000 was offered for information leading to the finding of his whereabouts by a number of his friends. Eagan was a bachelor and had lived for some time in this city.

BIG BANKER IS INVOLVED

Arrested in Connection With a Bond Deal of $105,000.

CLEVELAND, July 24—Harry E. Hayes, a member of the banking firm of W. J. Hayes & Son of this city, was placed under arrest today on a warrant from New Jersey charging conspiracy in connection with a bond deal. The amount involved is said to be $105,000. It is alleged that Hayes obtained possession of the bonds of the Board of Education of West Newark, N. J. in an illegal manner. Also it is asserted that there was forgery in connection with the bond issue. Hayes was not locked up, but was placed under guard.

DIES FROM EFFORT IN RACE

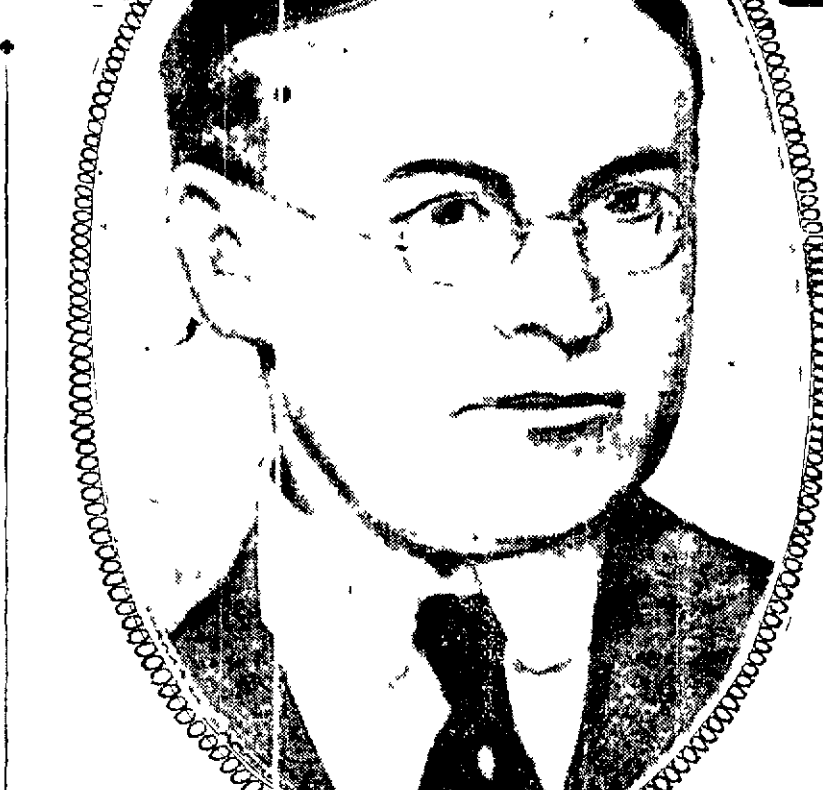

Italian Runner in the Marathon Contest Is Dead—American Was Winner of Contest.

LONDON, July 24—Dorando the Italian runner in the Marathon races died this afternoon as the result of his nerve-racking effort today.

LONDON, July 24—Hayes, American, was today declared the winner of the great Marathon road race after Dorando, Italian, had been given the honor and (circumstances that evoked an instant protest.

The finish of the Marathon race had brought out a record breaking crowd. By 3 o'clock upwards of 80,000 persons had passed in and taken their seats in the stands which were built to hold 30,000 and it was a great brilliant and enthusiastic crowd that cheered the athletes as they competed in the contest of the afternoon. The Englishman of course got the lion share of the applause.

The bright costumes and the sun shades of the women and the waving of flags made a most wonderful picture especially when the people stood up to acclaim the victory of the Englishman over America in the second heat of the 260 meter swimming race. The Americans however soon had their revenge when W. Dunlop, Harvard and J. C. Garrett, Chicago.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24—That more than two thirds of the holding board of supervisors dunned "Big Jim" Gallagher for money which they said ought to have been paid in connection with the putting through of the Parkside deal was one of the new features brought out in the Ruef Parkside case on trial before Judge Cabanis today.

Heney Fined for Irregular Conduct in His Relations With Jurors

THE following is a fac-simile of the original court order by Judge Joseph H. Kibbey, June 26, 1905, fining Francis J. Heney $20 for contempt of court for improper conduct in his relations with jurors in a case for which he was a defendant's attorney in Arizona.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 24—Harry K. Thaw is ill. He suffered an attack of stomach trouble which he said was serious today that he decided to call in an outside physician. His condition is not such as to cause any alarm. ECHO OF OAKLAND BATTLE UNEXPLAINED

From S. F. Examiner, July 24.

FRANCIS J. HENEY, the attorney who has assumed the position of an official of the people in San Francisco, was requested by "The Examiner" last night to explain a receipt for $30,000 for "legal services" to the Contra Costa Water Company which he signed in June, 1905, and a facsimile of which is printed in an adjoining column.

This extraordinary document appears among the records of the water company as part of its expenditures during the memorable legal battle it had with the city of Oakland a few years ago. Two other items more easily understood, involving Mr. Heney, appear in those records.

Two Other Receipts.
They are in the form of receipts for other legal service and are as follows:

$2,500, Legal fee.....1905
$10,000, Legal fee.....1906
Then in between appears this wholly remarkable entry also for legal fee:
$30,000, Legal fees, June 5, 1905.

The two fees, respectively of $2,500 and $10,000, were paid to Mr. Heney by check.
No Check Appears.
The $30,000 fee does not appear in the Contra Costa Water Company's records in check form and stands out only in the guise of a receipt for "legal services."

This makes a total of cash credited to Mr. Heney for legal services of $42,500, of which $13,400 was paid to him in checks and the remaining $30,000 in some unknown form.

Peculiarly Conspicuous.

Violent Personal Assault on the Interviewer Is His Only Reply to Question.

ATTACKS 'EXAMINER' REPRESENTATIVE FROM REAR AS LATTER IS LEAVING

case of this character stands out with peculiar distinctiveness when compared with the legal fees paid to the other attorneys employed in this case.

A copy of the report by J. H. Dockweiler detailing the total expenditures of the case shows that during the years 1905 and 1906, when Mr. Heney was one of the attorneys, the total legal expenses distributed among eight eminent attorneys, several of whom easily outranked Mr. Heney in legal standing, amounted to $53,901. Of this total Mr. Heney is credited with $42,500, or $13,401 more than all the other attorneys combined.

What was the extraordinary legal work that Mr. Heney did for the Contra Costa Water Company in two years that was worth $42,500?

Why did he receive his extraordinary emolument in so peculiar a form?

Why, after receiving checks for $2,500 and $10,000, did he then receipt for $30,000, for which no check is traceable?

A man who occupies the public position of Mr. Heney cannot do business with a private water company in that manner and escape the demand for an explanation.

Explanation Is Due.

A lawyer who receipts for $42,500 in payment for legal services for such a corporation during two years and then becomes a quasi-public servant, must tell the public how it happened that a succession of regular check payments of $2,500 and $10,000 should have sandwiched between them the fortune of $30,000 as another payment for legal fees, and have the receipt for that sum shrouded in the mystery of no record, anywhere except in Mr. Heney's own receipt.

What Is the Mystery?

What is this mystery involving $30,000 for which Mr. Heney signed a receipt for legal services for the Contra Costa Water Company?

What did he do with it, for it stretches the imagination to believe that his or any other man's legal services in that case could be of such extraordinary value.

Did he get in cash this $30,000 which was not paid by check and yet for which he signed a receipt?

If so, what did he do with it? Dingee Evades Question.

Does the $30,000 show on Mr. Heney's bank books?

"The Examiner" ventures the guess that Mr. Heney will be able to show no such entry.

If not in his bank records where is the $30,000 for which he receipted?

It was this eminently proper and public question "The Examiner" asked of Mr. W. J. Dingee last night with this result:

Q.—Mr. Dingee, "The Examiner" would like to know if you will throw some light on a receipt for $30,000 signed by Francis J. Heney for legal fees last night.

A.—That is all a matter of history.

with me now. I am out of the water business. I have left Oakland and do not care to go into the matter.

It was the same eminently proper and public question a representative of "The Examiner" asked of Mr. Francis Heney last night.

Heney Replies With Attack.

When Heney was questioned about the $30,000 payment to him by the Contra Costa Water Company at his home, 2299 Sacramento street, about 7 o'clock last night, his only answer was a violent assault on the interviewer, coupled with an attempted battery and threats of additional violence if that or any other inquiry on behalf of "The Examiner" was persisted in, and in this connection it is right to state that he assaulted his interviewer from behind. A plain clothes policeman detailed to guard Mr. Heney was called to the scene by the Assistant District Attorney's attack and took the interviewer into custody.

He threatened to lock "The Examiner" representative up, but after hearing the facts about the encounter refused to carry out his plan and turned away to resume his post of observation across the street.

Mr. Heney was at dinner when the representative of "The Examiner" reached the Sacramento-street house. The caller was ushered into the parlor and asked to wait until Mr. Heney had satisfied his appetite. Five minutes later a figure appeared in the doorway and "The Examiner" representative arose to greet the assistant district attorney.

"Mr. Heney," said he—

"Yes," was the reply as he approached cordially.

"I am a representative of 'The Examiner,'" said the interviewer, "and I would like to ask you a few questions about a matter we have under investigation."

Mr. Heney's cordiality faded. The muscles of his lips contracted noticeably and he made no reply.

"I will take only a few minutes of your time," continued the interviewer. "Well, what do you want to ask me about?" finally came from Mr. Heney.

Asks About the $30,000.

"We have been investigating some of the business of the Contra Costa Water Company," said "The Examiner" representative, "and we find that during 1905 and 1906 you were paid several large sums of money by the company—$2,500 in one amount, $10,000 in another and $30,000 in a third. It is this payment of $30,000 which we would like to have you explain."

Mr. Heney was standing near a chair at this moment. He grasped the back of the heavy piece of furniture convulsively, paused a moment to look angrily at the interviewer, then turned abruptly and paced quickly and nervously and paced quickly and nervously.

At the wall he turned again and strode back to confront his inquisitor. He looked at "The Examiner" representative, but said nothing. He started again, with the same quick, nervous tread, and turned into the hall adjoining the room.

Orders Interviewer Out.

Half way through the door he stopped and turned decisively. Looking towards the questioner, he shouted angrily:

James D. Reymart, Jr.

Parties all present. The clerk called the jury and all answered.
Counsel for defendant asked permission was granted to introduce further evidence.
At this time the defendant, James D. Reymart, Jr., moved his court that the jurors discharge the jury from the grounds that some of said jury, he deposed and defendant counsel had the right to see, and defendant counsel deposed and the court ordered the said attorney to file his motion in writing stating particularly and specific facts.

The said attorney thereupon filed said motion and the court proceeded to hear the evidence in support of said motion.

1. H. Dimes, 2. Francis Heney, 3. R. H. Paul, 4. Charles Miles, 5. Mike McLean, 6. J. H. Keating, 7. Harry Smith, 8. J. H. Becker, 9. H. McLean, 10. C. R. Kuchner, 11. Ed. Halum, 12. Marion Mitchell, 13. J. H. Paul, 14. Milton Ward, 15. and the court made the following order in the premises:

The trial of this cause having heretofore been begun but not being concluded and the government by Thomas C. Wilson, U. S. Attorney, and by John H. Wilson, U. S. Attorney, having filed said motion to discharge the jury from further consideration of this cause that it be adjourned until that time as aforesaid and of Francis Heney, Esq. one of the attorneys for the defendant, and of the defendant himself.

"You get out of here. There's the door, get out!"

"The Examiner" representative walked slowly toward Mr. Heney and began pacifically: "Mr. Heney, there's no occasion for excitement over this matter. We have our figures from an audit of the company's business contained in an official document and we hope that you will make a statement, particularly about the $30,000 payment."

"I will not answer any questions on this or any other matter," shouted the now thoroughly aroused Heney. "You," he continued, seizing the interviewer by the lapel of the coat, "you get out of here and don't you ever dare to come around me again."

"There's no reason for a display of violence," said "The Examiner" man, turning to the hall. "We would like to have your explanation."

Attacks the Reporter.

But as the interviewer turned his back momentarily on the assistant district attorney to move toward the open front door Heney cut short further conversation by launching his invective against the retreating form of the questioner. He struck out wildly at his back and shoulders, using his arms and feet like a Dutch windmill. The impact carried both men out onto the narrow landing at the head of a long, broad flight of stairs leading to the street, fifteen feet or more below.

Here, for a moment, the interviewer disentangled himself from the half-clutch Heney had put over the back of his neck, and turned to face his assailant, preferring to continue the encounter face on rather than to risk further attacks from the rear.

"Now, Mr. Heney," said he, "you have represented many interests in your time, and so have I, why can we not talk this matter over in a representative capacity, without this display of personal violence?"

"Get Out" Is Only Answer.

"You get out!" was Heney's only answer again to inquiries that would lead up to the $30,000 episode. "You get out or you'll get more," and sulking the action to the words, he lunged again at the interviewer, the encounter this time resulting in a partial clinch, but carried both men half-way down the long steps. At this point the time for a break-away came again, and Heney, after striking out repeatedly with both fists, backed up a couple of steps, to get an advantage of position, and continued to lunge wildly, the visions of the $30,000 question apparently dazzling him so that he struck at random.

"There's no use then, trying to take this matter up with you," said the interviewer, backing down a couple of steps, but keeping his eye on the assistant district attorney. This was too much for Heney, again, and he rushed down, grabbing his caller around the neck and striking out vainly with his disengaged arm.

Threatens Worse Treatment.

"I'll tell you what," he shouted, bringing his face close to that of the other, "you take word down to 'The Examiner' office, that if the man who's running 'The Examiner' will come out here, I'll give it to him worse than this. I'd like to see that man!"

And here appeared Heney's reinforcements from the rear. A plain clothes watcher took "The Examiner" man by the arm and pulled him onto the sidewalk.

"I'll look you up," he announced.

"For what," queried the prospective prisoner.

"For being around here," declared the detective.

"I'm here on a perfectly legitimate errand," was the reply. "Look me up if you want to, but you can't make it stick. I'm within my rights here and I do not propose to be bullied out of them."

In the meantime Heney had retreated to the house, closed the door and was communing with his own thoughts over the dinner that had grown cold and the $30,000 episode that had aroused his anger.

After a short additional colloquy with the plain clothes man, that guardian of the peace thought better of his threat to make an arrest and strolled across the street.

Long Litigation.

The City of Oakland and the Contra Costa Water Company have been engaged in litigation concerning the water supply and rates for more than eight years. In 1900 the corporation brought suit to have a high valuation fixed on its plant. The city's experts put the valuation nearly in half. A hard-fought suit in the Alameda County Superior Court resulted. Judge E. C. Hart of Sacramento hearing the case. The result was that Judge Hart decided in favor of the water company, though cutting down the latter's figures somewhat, and he decreed that the water company was entitled to a 7 per cent income on the valuation that he fixed.

An appeal was taken and the attorneys for the municipality occupied four years in preparing the case for presentation in the higher court, and then so much time was occupied by the attorneys in filing briefs for both sides

HENEY ONCE FINED FOR JURY WORK IN ARIZONA

Court Declared Mistrial and Four Jurors Were Also Given Punishment.

JUDGE NOW GOVERNOR OF THE TERRITORY

From Examiner July 24.

The following is the published story of the episode in July, 1905, when Mr. Heney was convicted of improper relations with a jury in Arizona, was forced to pay a fine for his misconduct, resulting in the case being taken from the jury by Judge Kibbey, who now is Governor of Arizona.

It appears that Heney was convicted of improper relations with a jury before whom he was trying a criminal case, and a mistrial resulted, the jurors being discharged and Heney being fined by the court.

Culver Wilson, a Los Angeles attorney with office in the Wilcox building, was Assistant United States Attorney for the Second Judicial District of Arizona in 1901. Wilson was prosecuting James Reymart in the District Court at Florence, Pinal county, on a charge of cohabitation with a widow by the name of Rittenhouse.

Judge Kibbey, now Governor of Arizona, was presiding. Heney was Reymart's attorney. On the strength of certain affidavits filed with the court by a United States Marshal, Wilson was dismissed, causing a mistrial, and Heney and four jurymen were fined for improper conduct.

Wilson Tells Story.

Attorney Wilson showed considerable reluctance recently to discuss the case. He gave a narrative of the mistrial and the punishment of Heney as follows:

"Reymart was on trial for cohabitation with one Dolores Rittenhouse. Heney appeared as Reymart's attorney. I was desirous of obtaining a conviction, as the offense had occasioned a scandal in the little town of Florence, the capital of Pinal county. The Rittenhouse woman was the widow of one of the best known and most popular members in the territory. She had two children.

"The case was called in the afternoon and a part of the testimony was taken. Some of the witnesses were of Florence, who were indignant at the conduct of Reymart and Mrs. Rittenhouse.

"About 5 o'clock in the afternoon the court adjourned until the next morning. Judge Kibbey warned the jury against discussing the case before discussing their verdict.

"The next morning the judge called me to him and said he had heard that members of the jury were drinking in Jack Keating's saloon the evening before, in company with Reymart and Heney and others.

"Judge Kibbey asked me to investigate at once and furnish him with affidavits setting forth what had occurred. I set a deputy United States marshal to work. Soon after he made an affidavit to the effect that four members of the jury had been drinking the night before in Keating's saloon in company with the respondent, Reymart, and his attorney, Heney. Several others were in the saloon at the time."

Affidavits Filed.

"Mr. Wilson here stipulated that the affidavits did not allege that Heney had been tampering with the jury. He expressed a warm friendship for Heney and said he would regret to see Heney's old Arizona record brought out."

"Gordon McLean, a former resident of this city, was foreman of that jury," went on Wilson. "Naturally, I objected to proceeding further in the case under the circumstances. The jurymen were all from Clifton, Graham county. They had come over from the mines and were out for a lark rather than to decide important cases."

"Judge Kibbey was even more severe than I was. He ordered that an entry of mistrial be made, and the case stopped at once. Then he fined Heney for his part in the mistrial. He also fined four of the jurymen and ordered the jury dismissed."

"Asked as to the final result if the case, Mr. Wilson said: "Well, when the case came up at the next session before another jury, Heney made the defense that Reymart could not be tried a second time, as his client's liberty had once been placed in jeopardy."

"The judge submitted this point to the jury, and the jury decided that Reymart could not be tried again. He was accordingly released from custody."

"Then came the trial of Dolores Rittenhouse. The same jury that had dismissed Reymart found the woman guilty and she was punished for the offense."

Three years ago an attempt was made to acquire a municipal water system by buying out the Bay Cities Water Company. In accordance with this plan of municipal ownership, a bond election was called, but the water company made a powerful fight against the bond issue and defeated the measure. Money was plentiful in the campaign, and accusations of vote buying were plentiful at the time.

Get Injunctions.

Since the commencement of the litigation two injunctions have been obtained by the Contra Costa Company against the city restraining the Council from putting into effect new water rates. The first was granted by Judge Morrow in the United States Circuit Court, and the second by Judge Gilbert. These actions are still pending. It is

DREAMS OF AIR SHIP WORK

Witnesses Tell About the Plans of Morrell and Associates to Get Money for Carrying Out Their Plans.

(Special to The Tribune.) SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—The money dreams of an airship promoter, lately imagined and his plans, which were clearly revealed during the trial of C. A. Morrell before Superior Judge Kibbey this morning, Morrell is accused of falsely representing the affairs of the National Airship Company by one of a pamphlet which he distributed widely and which brought him in a great deal of money by way of purchases of stock.

The chief witnesses against him are Mrs. Katherine Kerns and David Thomas, who are the complainants. MORRELL PROSPECTUS.

The pamphlet which caused the trouble and which was today introduced in evidence, stated that Morrell himself, who is the husband of the deceased, was to be in charge of the National Airship Company, and that he was the President of the United States. It exploits his ability by saying that he has built seventeen dirigibles and six balloons.

It explains a gigantic airship project which he maintains was already under way, whereby fifty airships could be constructed at the same time and completed every day. These machines were to carry 100 passengers and fly at a speed of 100 miles an hour. They were to be built in twenty-four hours.

TOLD OF PARLORS. They were described in glowing terms as containing parlors, bedrooms, sitting rooms. The chairs weighed seven hundred and fifty pounds each and were upholstered in velvet. The chief witness examined today was James Jones, formerly secretary of the company, and an effort was made to bring out the fact that Morrell not only edited the above described pamphlet but was engaged in some work but he would not swear that he had written all of the paper mentioned.

'BIG JIM' DISLIKES THE WORD 'SWAG' IN SPEAKING OF BOO F.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Former Supervisor James L. Gallagher continued his testimony in Judge Cabanias' court yesterday in the trial of Al. Ruef for bribery. The word "swag" displeased Gallagher yesterday in reference to $25,000 he had received from Ruef in connection with the treasury franchise. Ruef's attorney inquired whether it was true that on the Fourth of July, 1906, Gallagher had officiated as orator in St. Francisco with an oration on "Civic Honesty." "No, sir," Gallagher responded. "It was on 'Impudence.'"

PROSPECTORS VICTIMS OF EXCESSIVE HEAT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Robert Thomas, an old prospector, is a victim of the excessive heat of the desert. Thomas' condition is critical. He has been a month of fearful heat of the desert, especially last week. Records of 120 degrees and higher are reported. He was immediately summoned to a room in Daggett in which a third of the

TALK 2900 MILES ON WIRELESS

Record Made by Operators in San Diego—Talk to the Connecticut Near New Zealand.

SAN DIEGO, July 24.—A. R. Rice, chief operator, and his assistants, H. V. Kover and C. H. Randall, at the Point Loma wireless telegraph station, hold the record for long distance work today, having talked with Admiral Sperry's battleship Connecticut last night, or rather this morning, at a time past midnight.

The Connecticut answered the first call of the station and after identifying each other, the battleship stated that she was then in longitude 165 west and between 9 and 10 north latitude, on her way to Auckland, N. Z., from Honolulu. A little figuring shows that the point is close to 2900 miles from Honolulu. A little figuring shows for long distance work being 2900 miles.

The battleship recorded all well on board and satisfactory progress made, but said that the static electric power was so strong because of the damp night that she could not easily make out the words from San Diego. The same condition prevailed here and the station soon lost the battleship connection and could not pick it up again.

DEPARTED WITH HIS WIFE'S MONEY AND JEWELS

Disappears After Week of Married Life; Had Another Spouse in East.

To have one's husband leave home after ten short days of connubial bliss is bad enough, but when he takes with him all the available cash on hand, amounting to about $40,000, and your jewelry, it is time to consult a lawyer. At least, that is what Mrs. Robert Griffin—Miss Martha Strub, that was—thinks about the matter. Late yesterday afternoon Mrs. Griffin called at the office of Assistant District Attorney Leon Clark and asked that a warrant be issued for the apprehension of her husband, Robert Griffin, claiming that he had decamped with the aforesaid money and ornaments belonging to her.

The Griffin were married by Judge Geary on June 8. After a week of married life the husband suddenly disappeared and his wife has not heard from him since.

ALREADY MARRIED. Investigation shows that Griffin, at the time of his marriage, was possessed of a wife, and that the husband had previously been married. It is said that he had a second wife, and that he had been married to her for some time.

Mrs. Griffin, who has been for years a teacher of French and German in this city, stated yesterday that she believed her husband had departed for Toledo, Ohio, where his parents are residing. Attorney Clark then advised her to consult with the prosecuting attorney, who will in all probability take steps to intercept the fugitive and have him brought back to Oakland, where he will be given an opportunity to explain his actions.

DALZELL BROWN MAY BE PARDONED, RUMOR HAS IT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—It was reported yesterday that J. Dalzell Brown, former mayor of San Francisco, was making an effort to obtain a pardon. It was rumored in this city that the effort was being made through a petition, which set forth that Brown had rendered invaluable services to the city and that he was a man of high character. The District Attorney refused to grant the report and said: "I have not heard of such a thing. It is the 'see' I will oppose his efforts to secure release on such a flimsy pretext."

PASSENGERS DROWN IN FATAL COLLISION

CHRISTIANA, July 21.—The steamer Bunkie, engaged in coal and passenger trade, was in collision yesterday with the steamer Goetters. The collision took place through carelessness and sank in a few moments. From ten to twenty of the Bunkie's passengers are believed to have been drowned. Twelve of these were rescued by the Goetters.

DOLBEER ESTATE IS VALUED AT $1,053,567

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—The amount of collateral inheritance tax payable to the State from the estate of the late John Dolbeer, who died in 1904, is $1,053,567. Judge Hunt yesterday affirmed the appraisement of the value of the estate at the time of Miss Dolbeer's death at $1,053,567—or about $100,000 less than the figure made through appraisement and which was the basis for the tax on an estate that she left at $1,150,000. E. S. Pillsbury and Garret W. McDevitt, the attorneys for the principal devisees under the will, Miss Etta M. Warren were in court. In reply to Judge Hunt, Pillsbury stated that the cost of fighting the two contests on the will was a little over $20,000. The account was taken an item of $75,000 for costs of administration and legal expenses, which Pillsbury explained included the costs of the contests and the attorneys' fees.

POLITICIAN ACCUSED OF FRAUD

Charged With Stealing 16,000
Acres of Land in State of Oregon From Government.

CHICAGO, July 24.—L. Coggins, of Oregon, said to be prominent politician, and others are accused of having sold 16,000 acres of land alleged to have been wrongfully taken from the government.

The charge is made in a suit begun in the circuit court here by Gabe Ringenoldus to collect $30,000 damages. Coggins, Mary E. Coggins, and the firm of Coggins Brothers & Co. are defendants. The suit is an echo of the famous western land fraud deals.

Ringenoldus, who is a land dealer, some time ago entered negotiations to purchase 20,000 acres of land from the defendants for $50,000. Soon after, Ringenoldus found a chance to dispose of his holdings at a profit of $50,000. He then learned the Coggins people could not give him a clear title to the land.

BIG DISCOUNT TO HOME CUSTOMERS

Chamber of Commerce Will Return
5 Per Cent on All Goods
Bought in That City.

ALAMEDA, July 24.—Considerable business was transacted last evening by the directors of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce in executive session, and the conditions of business, better than at any time in the history of the city, was declared gratifying, in that the persistent efforts of the organization toward stimulating life into the city are bringing returns.

The importance of the development of the water front lands as a valuable acquisition to the city was discussed, and representatives of the B. & O. Seashore company were invited to address the people of Alameda at a meeting to be held in three weeks on this subject.

WANT FIRE TUG.
The increased shipping of the harbor and the lack of fire protection for vessels and industries along the Alameda shore has induced the Chamber of Commerce to begin a movement toward securing a fire tug for the protection of these interests. The society was instructed to ask the co-operation of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and to take the matter up with the Federal authorities. After a long and careful consideration, steps were taken last evening toward adopting practical means for increasing the business of the local merchants. The plan adopted consists of a system of coupons, whereby the Chamber of Commerce will issue to the merchants a uniform coupon which is to be given to cash buyers who can turn them into the Chamber of Commerce, who will pay the buyer 5 per cent in cash, on the amount purchased.

This system will be uniform and will apply to all classes of business. The resident of Alameda who at present buys in adjacent cities and who usually pays cash for his goods, will not have an inducement to patronize Alameda stores. More specific details of this system will be given later.

On account of the absence of street signs on corners in many parts of the city, the Chamber of Commerce directed a communication to the Street Superintendent to ascertain what means could be taken to have this defect remedied.

Student Track Meet.—The students of the summer session will hold a track meet on the east side of the University Saturday afternoon. The meet will be the first this summer and will be under the supervision of the department of physical culture.

POLICE ON THE LOOKOUT FOR TWO CLEVER PANEL THIEVES

Seattle Authorities Want Them Both Badly

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—The local police have been asked by the Seattle authorities to keep a sharp watch for two clever panel thieves, Clifford Delmar, alias Mrs. Louise Muller, a charming adventuress and Fred Nickerson, her companion, who is traveling with her as her husband. They are rated the cleverest pair of "panel game" workers in the world, and after operating extensively throughout the northwest a few months ago, disappeared mysteriously.

Now they are believed to be in this city and the Seattle police would give a pretty penny for their apprehension.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Although Chief of Police Bigg is familiar with the ordinance regarding the speeding of automobiles, which limits the chauffeur to eight miles an hour within the city limits and fifteen outside, nevertheless he states that control and not strict enforcement is what is necessary and what he has decided.

It is not only the real "speed devil," as he calls them, that is after, and so he is more or less lenient with the skillful chauffeurs who exceed the limit as stated in the ordinance, but who is not attempting to break any record.

Democratic Nominee Receives
Cheering Assurances From State Officials; to Speak on Way to Chicago.

FAIRVIEW, Lincoln, July 24.—William J. Bryan devoted himself today largely to cleaning up some correspondence regarding his personal attention, preparatory to his departure for Chicago this afternoon. Today's mail brought several communications which afforded him much gratification. Among these were letters from Governor Chamberlain of Oregon, Lieutenant Governor Chandler of New York and Representative W. Bourke Cochrane, also of the Empire State, congratulating him on his nomination and pledging their active support in behalf of the Democratic ticket.

MATTER OF SECRECY.

No amount of persuasion can induce Mr. Bryan to divulge the names of the new chairman or the other officers of the Democratic national committee. While the sub-committee on selection of officers will do the actual choosing, Mr. Bryan's personal wishes in the matter have been considered at all times. When asked regarding the dispatch from Guthrie, Okla., that Governor Haskell had been offered and had accepted the position of treasurer of the committee, Mr. Bryan maintained his usual secretiveness and said that no appointments would be announced until after the sub-committee holds its meeting tomorrow.

OFF FOR CHICAGO.

Mr. Bryan will leave over the Boston at 4:30 o'clock today and is due in Chicago tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. It is the present expectation that he will make brief speeches at Omaha, Neb., and Mendota and Aurora, Ill., the latter points being reached in the early morning.

NEW WATER WORKS.

SEOUL, Korea, July 24.—The new water works system of this city has been turned over to a British syndicate, which is headed by Mr. DeReuter of London, who is chairman. It is expected that under the new management sanitary conditions with regard to the water supply will be greatly improved.

The Japanese campaign against the insurgents is being pressed with undiminished vigor and about ten small engagements are reported daily. The government forces are simply sweeping through the disturbed areas, stamping out the revolt and leaving the territory through which they pass much improved in general conditions.

BUSINESS RESUMES.
Under the strict discipline that is being maintained over them the behavior of the Japanese troops engaged in this work is reported to be much improved.

CITIZENS OF NILES WANT CHRIS RUNCKEL TO RESIGN FROM CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

People Don't Like His Stand on Public Questions

(Special to The Tribune.)

NILES, July 24.—This afternoon a move was inaugurated by representative citizens of Niles to request Chris Runckel, editor of the Washington Press, and president of the Niles Chamber of Commerce, to resign his position at the head of the latter commercial institution. The action was taken at the instance of John Buchanan and other well-known citizens of this place on the ground that Runckel is editor of the paper in question has taken the stand on the liquor question which has caused a great deal of dissatisfaction in this community and which, it is considered tends to the destruction of the material prosperity of the place.

TO END PERSONAL FIGHTS.
Mr. Runckel has decided views as against the liquor question. Mr. Buchanan says it is time for personal differences in public matters to end, as at a time that a man who has opinions on one side of the liquor case, such as is the case with Mr. Runckel, should not be in a position to add emphasis to his view abroad as representative in a community where his partisans are greatly in the minority.

Be Sure To Go Out To BROADMOOR Next Sunday

Friday Eve., July 24th, 1908.

—You just ought to see Broadmoor NOW.

—It's worth the ride just to see what others are doing.

—Several splendid houses are going up and the plans of the enthusiastic owners sound almost too good to be true.

—"I'm going to use nearly all of my half acre for fruit trees," said one to the writer recently. "And in between the trees I'm going to grow vegetables, with berries all around the three sides of the lot."

—"I'm figuring with a gardener to lay out a whole lot of flowers," another said. "And I am going to have the finest lawn in Broadmoor," he continued.

—"My hobby has been horses," a third one remarked. "And I'm going to build an elegant stable—Then in addition, I, too, expect to grow all of my vegetables and berries."

—They're all wondering who their neighbors will be, and some are even waiting to find out before they build.

—Of course, the great feature of Broadmoor will be the neighborhood—The whole idea from the start has been to get together people of some consequence with the financial and physical ability, worth while as neighbors.

—Everyone knows that neighbors make or mar a country home and the one great feature of Broadmoor can be described in these words:

"It is to be a somewhat exclusive settlement of Country Villa Homes, each occupying about half an acre and each owned by someone worth while knowing and associating with."

—Now, this "neighborhood feature" is just developing—before we could only PROMISE you good neighbors and fine houses—now we can SHOW them to you.

—And that's why we want you out next Sunday—and it's the reason you ought to come, for if you've ever felt any desire AT ALL to live in the country and have a little place to hold your attention, one of these half-acre pieces at Broadmoor is just about the thing, and for THAT reason ought to be investigated.

—Come out Sunday for a little while, at least, and see the work that has been accomplished in only 30 days.

BOY MAKES THREE ATTEMPTS TO END LIFE

Third Time He Nearly Succeeds, With Rope About His Neck.

James Mullany, 20 years of age, yesterday made three attempts to take his own life, being rescued in each instance by friends who chanced to be near him. The third attempt, which occurred in the basement of a house in Emeryville, owned by W. H. Warrington, was almost successful. About 9 o'clock last evening Warrington heard a series of fearful groans issuing from his cellarway.

He rushed to the basement where he found Mullany suspended from the rafters by a clothes rope, which he had evidently adjusted about his neck a few seconds before. Warrington cut the man down and telephoned for the police, who took him to the receiving hospital.

An examination by Dr. O. D. Hamlin proved that Mullany had suffered no injury whatever, and on his own request he was permitted to leave for home.

TRIED THREE TIMES.
A few moments after the departure of the would-be suicide Warrington telephoned to ascertain his condition and imparted the information that Mullany had made three efforts during the day to end his life. He is a constant sufferer from epilepsy and told the hospital attendants that he remembered nothing about the hanging incident. He claimed that an attack of his illness was responsible for the act.

Mullany has been a familiar figure about Emeryville and the race track for the past ten years. His father formerly kept a saloon near the track, but is now living in San Francisco.

SNEAK THIEVES STEAL WATCH AND CLOTHING

Sneak thieves entered a building under course of construction at Tenth and Fulton streets last night and stole some clothing and a silver watch which had been unintentionally left there by A. P. Williams of 1673 Fourteenth street. A job was attached to the watch on which was a gold plated buckle, with the letter W stamped on it.

SUPERVISORS COMPLETE WORK OF APPORTIONMENT Act on the Petitions of Other Parties

The Board of Supervisors, acting as a board of election commissioners, this morning passed resolutions adopting the petitions of the Democratic, Union Labor, Independence League and Socialist parties as amended to fulfill the requirements of the law in accordance with the opinion handed down by District Attorney Brown yesterday afternoon. The Republican petition was adopted at the meeting held yesterday.

This action of the part of the Supervisors definitely settles the questions growing out of the apportionment of delegates from the fourteenth, fifteenth and sixteenth State Senatorial Districts, which have been so violently agitated during the past few weeks. The amendments made to the original petitions confine the apportionment of delegates from any Senatorial District to all primary and sub-divisional elections, to the limits of that particular Senatorial District, rendering it impossible to draw from any adjoining territory by apportionment.

NOTIFIED THE PARTIES.
The board convened at 10 o'clock this morning. Chairman Mitchell, Supervisors Rowe and Bridge being present. County Clerk stated that he had notified the representatives of every political party except the Socialist party, that their petitions for an election would be amended at this meeting, and that the Supervisors would be glad to hear from them at that time. He explained that he had been unable to reach the representatives of the Socialist party with this information, but as the presence of the political leaders was merely a courtesy extended on the part of the board, it was decided to include the Socialist petition with the others.

ONLY CORRECTING ERRORS.
Chairman Mitchell, in answer to Sands' question, said: "The board is acting in this matter solely because of errors appearing in the different petitions which, according to the interpretation of the district attorney, render them illegal. We are not prepared to make any changes, additions or amendments to the petitions except those that are necessary to legalize them. Every party which has submitted petitions has made the same error, either by reason of following the republican call or because the apportionments have been made in this way for such a length of time that they are under the impression that it is the correct method."

CAN MAKE NO CHANGES.
"We have no authority to make any radical changes in any of the petitions, or to accept any suggestions from the parties as to how changes shall be made. We have merely corrected them where they err in points of law, and, that done, they will be filed in the regular manner and the elections then called. Mr. Reed, while not altogether concurring with District Attorney Brown in his opinion of the apportionments, has accepted the proposed amendments on behalf of the republican party, and it will naturally follow that the other political parties will fall into line."

EXTEND JAIL CONTRACT.
On motion of Supervisor Rowe, at the meeting yesterday afternoon, the time for the completion of the new jail was extended one year, it being found impossible to secure material in time to finish it within the period originally set down in the specifications.

A petition for a school bond election call from the Stonybrook district was referred back to the supervisors from the office of the district attorney, with the recommendation that it be returned to the petitioners. The request contained several irregularities, which will have to be corrected before any action is taken by the board.

The supervisors will meet next Monday morning at 10 o'clock for the transaction of regular business.

TAYLOR IS STILL HOLDING REINS
San Francisco's Mayor Keeps in Touch With City's Activities, Even While Resting.

(Special to The Tribune)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Although Mayor Edward R. Taylor has hied himself to the woods to get close to nature, and to satisfy his poetic cravings, he has not relinquished his duties in this city, nor recommended the appointment of some member of the Board of Supervisors to act in his absence. His destination is unknown, but Secretary M. Kinnay is authority for the statement that his honor has not relinquished the reins of the city government.

"Mayor Taylor is in constant touch with this office," said the secretary today. "He is enjoying a much needed rest in the country, but will come here on short notice if needed. Papers requiring his signature are taken to him by me, and it will hardly be necessary to appoint an acting mayor in his absence. Mayor Taylor is expected back about the 5th of August."

GOODWIN'S STENOGRAPHER SAYS CHAIR WAS TOO HIGH.
RENO, Nev., July 24.—Miss Katherine Collins of this city is suing the Nat. C. Goodwin Brokerage Company for damages amounting to $5125 for not providing her with the proper kind of chair. She was employed as stenographer by the brokerage company and worked from February 22, to March 23, and during that time used a chair much too high.

On account of her feet not touching the floor, she claims, serious spinal trouble was superinduced so that she had to have two operations performed. For the damage to health expense of hospital treatment, etc., she claims the above amount.

In an action at Truro County Court a widow sued a maiden lady for $25, maintenance and care of eight cats and a dog. Plaintiff and defendant ordered that the cats should have eggs, soup, and other foods, and one cat was to be regularly supplied with pigeons. Hot water bottles were to be placed in the animals' blankets.

MINERS ARRIVE AT AN AGREEMENT

Western Federation Adopts the Truce Recommended With United Mine Workers.

DENVER, July 24.—The Western Federation of Miners in convention here today adopted the working agreement with the United Mine Workers of America substantially as recommended yesterday by the committee appointed to consider the subject. This action was strongly urged by President Chas. H. Moyer.

The agreement as adopted provides that the federation shall grant no more charters to coal miners, but that the locus of coal miners already organized shall be maintained, and organizations shall be continued where such locals exist. All questions of jurisdiction that may arise between the two organizations are to be referred to the executive boards of the organizations for settlement.

LABOR UNIONS BACK MOVEMENT

Officer of Alameda County Progress Club Declares Many Want New Charter.

The Alameda County Progress Club held a fairly well attended meeting in Electrical Workers' Hall, 565 Broadway, last evening. R. Wind, vice president of the club, acted as chairman, while J. Less was secretary.

The Progress Club was the initiative in the present movement for a new charter and it was to hear the report of the joint charter committee appointed by that body that the meeting was held last night.

SUPPORT GROWING.

Since the agitation for a charter was started it has received the support of various civic bodies, labor unions and many fraternal organizations. Chairman Less stated that the unions were particularly in favor of the movement.

Chairman Marshall of the Joint Charter Committee, reported the meeting of the committee with the Merchants' Exchange, and the successful result of the conference. Both Marshall and Denison, who is also on the committee, commended the Merchants' Exchange for the consideration with which it received the club's delegation.

ABOUT THE PETITION.

Mr. Marshall wished to dispel the idea that particularly had been shown in the circulation of the petition asking for a new charter. He stated that the petition had been confined to the business section because of the impossibility of a general circulation.

CONSOLIDATION NEXT.

Mr. Marshall declared that as soon as

ACCUSE DOCTOR OF KILLING GIRL

Portland Medico Is Arrested In Indianapolis On Serious Charge.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 24.—Dr. Joseph S. Courtney of Portland, Ore., who is here attending the convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, was placed under arrest at the Union station early this morning, a few minutes after he had purchased a ticket for Chicago. According to the Indianapolis officials a telegram was received ordering them to hold Dr. Courtney on a manslaughter charge for causing the death of a young girl through an alleged criminal operation. Dr. Courtney said he was only too anxious to return to Portland and face any charge against him.

"I am confident that it will come out all right when I return to Portland," said he.

Some substantial assurance was given by the City Council that a new charter would be drawn up the club would go right on with its work in an endeavor to bring about consolidation of city and county government as well.

The meeting closed with expressions of appreciation for the success achieved by the committee and promises to assist in urging immediate action upon the City Council next Monday evening.

"Generally debilitated for years. Had sick headaches, locked ambition, was worn-out and all run-down. Burdock Blood Purifiers made me a well woman."

"THE LOVE TALES OF HOFFMAN"

An absolute operatic novelty at Idora; mystical, wonderful

Friday, July 24th.

"The Love Tales of Hoffman" has been termed a fantastic opera. It has the music of a grand opera of the type of La Cavalliera Rusticana, the libretto of a comic opera, a mystery equal to Faust. The stage settings would do credit to an extravaganza, the first act shows comic opera and has been pronounced "the greatest vaudeville act in the business," the second act is scenic and the marvelously beautiful moonlight Venetian scene with its swinging gondolas and glorious music is so wonderfully romantic and beautiful that you sit and dream with dreamers on the stage before you. The third act is tragic, the music divine, the action dramatic; this act is strictly grand opera.

In all it is an absolute operatic novelty, something entirely different from anything ever before produced upon the American stage and there's no wonder that it created such a furor in New York.

"The Love Tales of Hoffman" drew such crowds in New York that the house was sold for days and days ahead.

MATINEE TOMORROW.

All Telegraph Avenue Cars Stop at the Entrance Gate of Idora Park. Special Car from Alameda.

It was produced every week by the greatest grand opera company the world has ever known, and whenever put on hundreds were turned away at the doors.

Hammerstein says "The Love Tales of Hoffman" saved the season for him. Conried started the bitterest operatic war in history in his endeavor to produce it, the east went wild over the music and some people traveled hundreds of miles to New York to hear it.

Next year it will be put on in English (it was played in French in New York). Mr. Charles Swickard made the translation and came out to California especially to produce it and Idora Park secured the honor of the production.

It is an opera that your children will know as you know Il Pagliacci, an opera that the whole Anglo-Saxon world will be talking about a year from now. You owe it to your musical education to attend.

THE RECORD OF A REFORMER

SOME chapters in the professional career both in Arizona and California of Francis J. Heney are reviewed in the San Francisco Examiner. The facts are of indubitable record, and therefore cannot be disputed, and they are such convincing proof of turpitude as to be difficult of explanation.

The transactions the narrative covers have been alluded to from time to time but have never hitherto been presented in their entirety and all their sinister significance.

In the disclosures no mention is made of the atrocious killing of Dr. Handy in Arizona, and the peculiar methods by which Heney escaped indictment and trial for a homicide which excited horror and execration even in a community familiar with bloodshed and lawlessness. Heney now claims legal justification for the slaughter of Dr. Handy on the strength of the verdict of a coroner's jury obtained in a manner obnoxious to good morals and which strengthens the presumption of guilt on the part of the slayer.

Among the facts submitted is a record showing that Heney was convicted and fined by Judge Kibbey, now Governor of Arizona, of misconduct with jurymen empaneled to try a case in which Heney was attorney for the defendant. It appears from the finding of the court that one James Reymert was indicted in the Second Judicial District of Arizona for the crime of unlawful cohabitation. After the jury was empaneled Heney and his client were discovered to be carousing and hobnobbing in a saloon with four of the jurymen.

On the facts being presented to the court Judge Kibbey fined Heney and Reymert for contempt of court, discharged the jury and ordered a mistrial in the case. Heney paid his fine, and subsequently got his client acquitted on the plea of once in jeopardy. The woman indicted jointly with Reymert was found guilty, however. It may be added that some severe strictures on Heney's conduct which Judge Kibbey incorporated in his judgment have since been expunged from the record.

The incident illustrates Heney's methods and character. Licentious and unseemly conduct was combined with improper relations with jurymen in a way to defeat justice and bring judicial process into disrepute. It is noteworthy that he did not scruple to turn his own misconduct to the advantage of his client, who appears to have been a man after Heney's own heart.

Heney was paid $42,500 in three installments by the Contra Costa Water Company for alleged services in the litigation between that corporation and the city of Oakland. His services so far as has been disclosed consisted of presenting a petition to Judge Gilbert of the United States Circuit Court for a writ enjoining the municipality from collecting the water rates fixed by the City Council, which writ Judge Gilbert granted. Heney and Judge Gilbert are counted bosom friends. In the proceedings to have the injunction dissolved Heney took little part, the argument for the water company being conducted by Judge John Garber and Garret McEnerny, two of the most eminent advocates on the Pacific Coast. Judge Garber's fee was $2500 and that of Mr. McEnerny was trifling compared to the sum paid Heney.

Why was Heney paid such an enormous fee for such a brief and apparently insignificant service? His standing at the bar did not warrant it nor were his services in or out of court either long or laborious. In point of ability and legal learning he ranks far below either Judge Garber or Mr. McEnerny; indeed, he has never been ranked by anybody as being in their class.

For some unexplained reason Heney flew into a violent rage when a reporter asked him to explain why he had received such a large fee for such apparently slight service in the injunction case. He ordered the reporter out of his office, and as he was going out assaulted him from the rear, which, by the way, seems the great reformer's favorite line of attack. Why he did not use the revolver which he boasts of carrying and of readiness to use is inexplicable.

What was there about an inquiry apparently legitimate and respectfully made that should have aroused in Heney such a fierce passion? The receipts for the money Heney received are among the papers of the Contra Costa Water Company, and the sums paid him appear among the expenditures of the company as returned by the expert employed by the city of Oakland.

Is there any mystery connected with the receipt for this money or the character of the service rendered by Heney? If not, why the fit of ungovernable rage when he is asked about it politely?

These matters are pertinent at this time because Heney has set himself up as a censor of courts and lawyers. He has been charging all manner of offenses on attorneys opposed to him in the cases in which he appears ostensibly as a prosecutor for the public good. He has even impugned the integrity of the higher courts, and at a banquet charged members of the San Francisco Superior bench with corruption. He discreetly refrained, however, from designating the corrupt members of the judiciary, possibly because he did not deem it expedient to expose his friends and coadjutors. He has attacked the press of the State individually and collectively as corrupt and leagued with crime. He has in public speeches threatened to send scores of reputable citizens not charged with crime to State's prison. Everywhere he poses as a paragon of virtue and a model of professional rectitude.

Yet it is well known to all men familiar with his life and habits that this man has been a riotous debauchee; that he has time and again scorned the proprieties of his profession and scoffed at the mandates of the law; that he has taken every fair and unfair advantage that unscrupulous ingenuity could suggest; that he has employed the basest elements of society and the most disreputable practices of the legal profession to promote his ends; and his whole course of conduct is a damning contradiction of his pretense of being unselfishly desirous of purifying politics and eliminating corruption from the public service. His leprous record in professional and private life gives the lie to every virtuous profession he makes.

Heney's fierce war on corporations has its companion piece in the $42,500 fee collected from the Contra Costa Water Company. Of all the public service corporations in San Francisco Spring Valley alone was not assailed by the graft prosecution. He had been employed as a Spring Valley attorney. He has never denounced or harmed that corporation, nor has he ever attacked the men heavily interested in the concern.

While holding the office of Assistant District Attorney he prosecutes only persons Rudolph Spreckels selects for prosecution; he assails only those corporations Spreckels desires to wreck; he villifies only the men who oppose the schemes of Spreckels or have incurred the enmity of that individual. In his wake as a prosecutor follows a horde of criminals granted immunity, and every chapter of his doings contains the story of compacts with scoundrels whereby immunity to confessedly guilty wretches was bartered for testimony against men of station and repute whose turpitude is at least open to question. His efforts to intimidate witnesses and jurors and to deny the right of fair trial to accused persons, to say nothing of his infamous bargains with criminals, stamp him as a fraud and a menace to the administration of justice.

As he is now masquerading about the State in the role of a political reformer and moral purifier it is fitting that the light should be turned on his past career and practices. There was a shriek of horror when Mokanna, the false prophet of Khorassan, lifted the veil from a visage made hideous by loathsome disease and unbridled passion. So will Heney appear to the people when revealed in his true character.

Filling the Alameda Marshes.

The filling of the marshes on the Alameda side of the harbor and improving land for commercial, manufacturing and warehouse purposes is one of the best things done on this side of the bay in many years. It abates a public nuisance, brings Alameda and Oakland into a close bond of commercial union and renders available for business purposes a large tract of valuable territory strategically located for maritime and trade purposes. It is a double benefit that this improvement should go hand in hand with improvement of our harbor facilities.

The marsh east of Webster street is already practically reclaimed from its unprofitable waste state, and will soon be available for building and industrial purposes, permitting easy access to every point on the harbor by streets that are already platted. A navigable basin running parallel with Webster street is to be dredged out so as to bring shipping facilities more closely to the business center of Alameda.

The filling of the marsh west of Webster street will shortly begin. This work will be a complement to the deepening of the harbor channel, and will give to commercial uses a large tract of mud and water that has hitherto been a barrier to approach to the harbor from the south. When filled this tract will be laid out in streets providing for a system of spur tracks that will bring cars to the door of every establishment.

The effect of these improvements, now in process of fulfillment, will be enormously beneficial to this community. Alameda will be brought to the water's edge on the north, and an extensive area now unsightly waste and unproductive financially, be utilized for commerce and manufacturing. The lands so improved must of necessity become enormously valuable, and while enlarging industrial and shipping facilities will add to the taxable wealth of Alameda county.

While the improvement is due to private enterprise it is none the less important to the community as a whole. It will add to the importance of the port of Oakland and create a new demand for labor and a larger field for commercial extension.

The Lincoln-Roosevelt leaguers are not forming any Taft and Sherman clubs. On the contrary, they denounce and vilify the organizers of Taft and Sherman clubs. The speeches at their so-called ratification meetings are mainly denunciations of the State Republican organization and the men who are managing the campaign for Taft and Sherman in this State. Little mention is made of Taft's name and the nomination of Sherman is studiously ignored. Instead there is fulsome laudation of President Roosevelt, who is not a candidate, and attacks on the Republican State administration and the Republican Senators and Representatives in Congress.

the platform on which Taft and Sherman stand is derided or ignored. Taft is treated as a mere understudy and deputy for Roosevelt and Sherman is treated as an unworthy excrement on the ticket. Still the leaguers profess to be loyal to the ticket and desirous of its success at the polls.

The news of festivities which greet the fleet on its voyage around the world serves only to remind us that the departure of the battleship armada leaves the Pacific Coast more unprotected than it was before its arrival. None of the ships of the Atlantic fleet was left here, and the battleships Nebraska and Wisconsin, which were already here, steamed away with Admiral Sperry. Having allowed us to see the Atlantic fleet, the two best ships in the Pacific were taken away with it. That is not what we looked for, and is altogether disappointing.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

Two's company unless they are husband and wife.

The more a girl likes a man the more he would like her if she didn't.

The worst about marrying for money is it so often turns out to be counterfeited.

Anyway, if a man didn't spend all his money on his family he'd lose it some other way.

If servants worked half as hard as wives and got the same wages there would be a lot more trouble than there is.

What a woman likes about having her husband take her to a summer resort is the good manners he pretends to have before strangers.

What Is a Lallapapooosa?

Editor OAKLAND TRIBUNE—The Eastern papers have been discussing the etymology of the word "lallapapooosa," sometimes pronounced in a papapooosa. I observe that it is treated as slang of modern origin, having no derivation in any known speech.

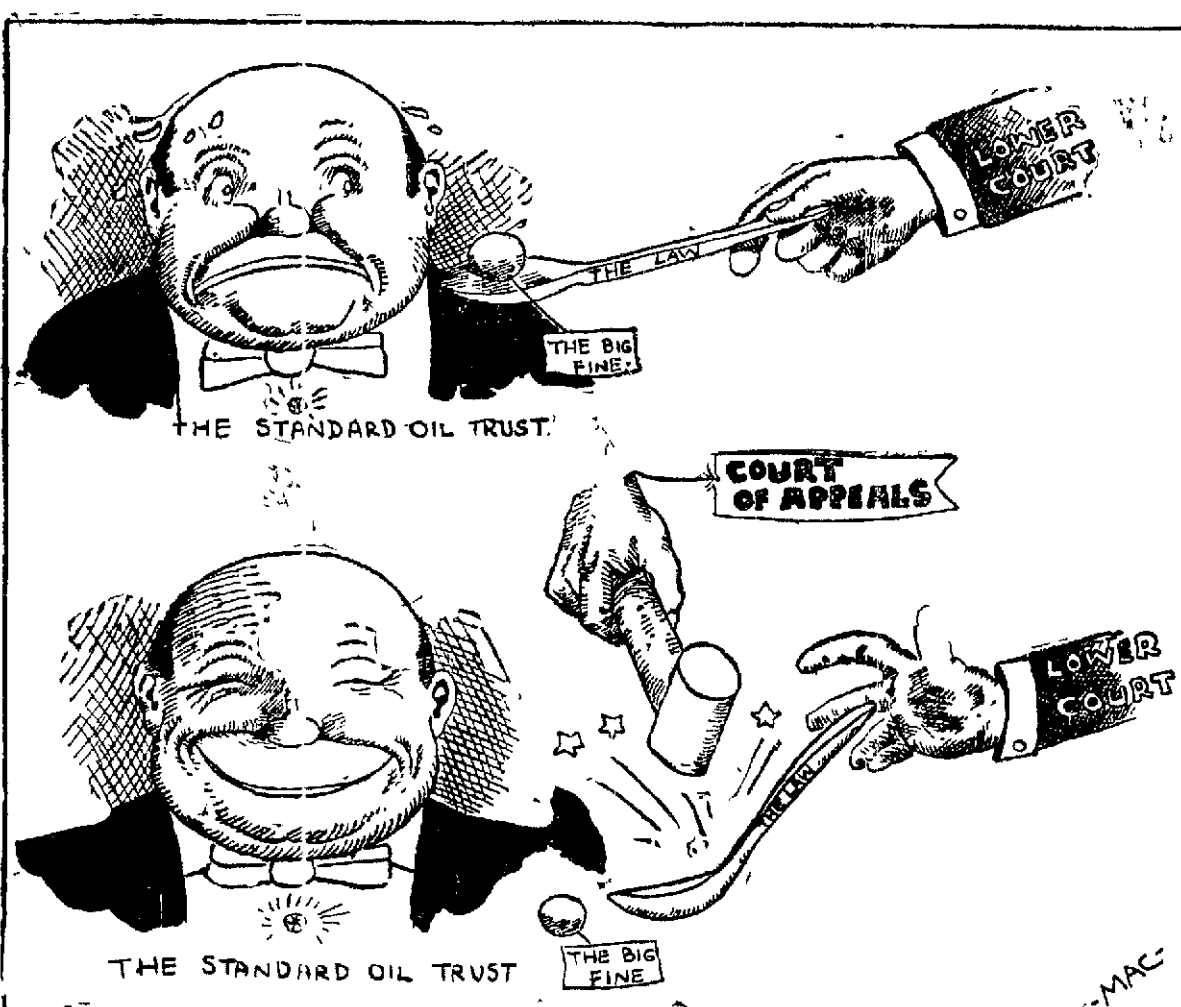

Lallapapooosa is a Muscogee or Seminole word descriptive of something exceptional, remarkable or peculiar of the kind. It may be applied to a story, a potato, a celebration, a politician, a sermon, a vaudeville stunt, a political platform, a kiss, a college president, a joke, a new bonnet, a fish story, a burglary or a knot hole. It has its analogy in recent slang in such expressions as "pea-warmer," "stern winder," "lallycooler," "sockdologer" etc., and is synonymous with the "Joadarter" of a past period. It may signify something "fierce," something wonderful, or something ridiculous.

For instance, President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the State University is a lallapapooosa. So is Heney. The confession of the Greek, John Claudianer, is a lallapapooosa, as is the latest yarn about the sea serpent. In newspaperdom the Call may properly be styled a lallapapooosa. Some of the local clergy are star performers in the lallapapooosa class. I would instance Rev. Tanner of Melrose.

I heard Councilman Elliott hand out a lallapapooosa in East Oakland not long since. Roosevelt's letter to President Eliot of Harvard University was a lallapapooosa that drew another in return. George Sterling's poem, "The Wizardry of Wine" is a lallapapooosa. Lincoln Steffens is simply fierce. Richmond Pearson Hobson is merely foolish. James L. Gallagher is a plain thief. All are lallapapooosas in their way.

"SALOME" Costume

More Work For Jeweler Than For Dress-maker

PARIS.—Mary Garden, who is nearing the close of her engagement at the Paris Grand Opera, talked enthusiastically about "Salome," which she is to sing at the Manhattan opera next fall. She will study "Salome" with the composer for three weeks.

"My costume is ordered and will be ready in September when I return to Paris," she said. "It is a composite dress taken from three pictures by Gustave Moreau, two of which are in the Luxembourg gallery, while the third is in the private gallery of a friend. One of these pictures was Oscar Wilde's inspiration. The color will have more to do with the making of the costume than the dressmaker. The jewels on the body will all be rubies. My original idea was amethysts, but artists tell me they are mournful stones.

"As I have already promised I shall do all of the dance myself and I shall study how to do it with Marquitta of the Opera Comique in September. When I came back to Europe I had planned to sing 'Salome' in Brussels, but Richard Strauss advised me against that.

"Let America see you first," he said. "However, it is decided that 'Salome' is to be produced next spring in Paris in April, and I shall sing it first in New York and then here.

"Dancers will be Herod and Dancer. The John the Baptist. Richard Strauss is to transcribe the music of Herod and make it a baritone role for him, but that, of course, was impossible."

Three Women Thrown out of window Plump Comely Woman

NEW YORK.—Rosie Cohen, a plump, comely woman of 25, fifth avenue, was found at the foot of the air shaft with both legs broken. The doctors at the Harlem Hospital said that she had sustained also internal injuries. She had fallen four stories. She had either been pushed through a window or had accidentally fallen.

Her plight is the result of a romance which appears to have begun in Russia. Two women, Mrs. Sarah Roderman, 31 years old, of 99 Suffolk street, and Mrs. Rachel Weinhaus, 36, of 36 West One Hundred and Thirty-sixth street, are locked up at police headquarters charged with pushing Rosie Cohen through the window. The police are looking also for Mrs. Klein of 105 Monroe street.

While Meyer Roderman, a tailor, who has a shop at 21 West One Hundred and Thirty-sixth street, lived with the Cohen woman on the fourth floor, rear, or 2240 Fifth avenue. Mrs. Roderman with her three children, lived at 99 Suffolk street. It was Roderman's wife,

In company with two friends, who went to the Cohen flat, as alleged, quarreled with Rosie Cohen and pulled her hair until the neighbors had to interfere, and, it is charged furthermore, broke up the furniture after the hated rival of the tailor's wife had fallen from the window.

In the Harlem Hospital Rosie Cohen told Coroner Aertelt that the three women attacked her and she had run into the bedroom, whence she had tried in vain to escape. They crowded her, she said, against the window and pushed her out. The coroner ordered the arrest of the three visitors.

Mrs. Roderman is only five feet tall and stocky in appearance. She says her husband deserted her and the three children for the Cohen woman, and that latterly he had cut her allowance down to $5 a week, compelling her to work in the hospital. Rosie Cohen identified Mrs. Roderman and the Weinhaus woman as two of those who she said pushed her through the window.

Women and Mountain Climbing

It is a significant fact that women seldom meet with bad accidents in mountain-climbing. They seem to have steadier nerves, greater equanimity, more aplomb in the face of great peril than men. That the women who would scream and flee at the sight of a mouse should stand without a nervous tremor on a three-mile height where a single false step would mean a fall to instant death, illustrates one of the anomalous inconsistencies of women nature.

Women have been right in the forefront of mountain-climbing. They have kept abreast of some ahead of their brothers in the ascent of Rocky Mountains and Pacific Coast peaks, the high mountains of Alaska, the lofty heights of the Andes, the Alps and the Himalayas. It was an American girl who conquered one of the highest peaks in South America and broke the world's record in high climbing by reaching a height of some 23,000 feet.

Success in mountain-climbing is not due primarily to the sex of the climber.

Men and women cannot stand high altitudes. Many grow dizzy in spite of their most heroic efforts to control their feelings. It makes a big strapping man feel decidedly childish and foolish when he is taken to a narrow trail because of uncontrollable dizziness. But the girlness is no more to be controlled by the will than is sensibleness. The bolder and more confident a man becomes in trying to brave it out the more aloof and humiliating is his surrender when all the landscape begins to give a correct indication of a steep-as-a-hill in action. If a man is subject to dizziness while the sense of great height produces he would better acknowledge the coin, instead of attempting feats of bravado which invariably end in his discomfiture.

To those not given to this dizziness mountain-climbing is inspiring. The exercise it involves is invigorating and the pure air which flows into the lungs from the rarified atmospheric regions renews vitality and stores up energy for weeks to come.

Wore Mike Donlin's Suit at Chorus Girls' Baseball Game

NEW YORK.—If Emma Caus had not popped to Lillian Lee just at the wrong time at the Polo grounds the store might have been different, but as it was Lillian got the ball just where she wanted it and he submitted that the prima donnas by either 4 to 2 or 5 to 3. Opinion was divided as to which was the right score. But Mabel Hite, who had gone in against Emma Caus, said that she knew it was 5 to 3 because her arm had that tired feeling.

The baseball game between the chorus girls is one of Broadway's annual events now. Everybody, including strippers, mediums and stars, were out for the game and there was a procession of motor cars up Broadway when the contest began. Besides the players a lot of the girls consented to go in makeup. Bessie McCoy

Chorus Girls' Hotel Now Seems Assured

NEW YORK.—Only a title of $25,000 in cash now stands between the chorus girls of the "Three Girls" company, in the Herald Square Theater, and the realization of their dream of putting up a magnificent hotel for the accommodation of women of the stage. Miss Fattie De Von and Miss Clara Stanton, who are the prime movers of the hotel proposition, received an offer from Paul Henkel, manager of Keen's English Chop House, who which he owns on West Thirty-sixth street, near Sixth avenue. He was willing, he said, to put up the $25,000 necessary to build the hotel if the girls would pay him $32,000 down and agree to pay $75,000 at the end of the first year. For the remaining $150,000 he was willing to accept a mortgage bearing interest at 6 percent. Henkel also offered to manage the place for the girls.

Miss De Von and Miss Stanton said they were delighted with the proposition, and that they would consult Augustus E. Groll & Co., who are thinking of backing the scheme. Of course Groll & Co. would like to see a little cash from the young women, but Miss De Von and Miss Stanton, being optimistic, feel they will have no difficulty in raising it. They figure it certain that the young women are able to save sufficiently out of their salaries of $15 a week to buy diamonds, furs and expensive furnishings for their apartments, they ought to have a little left over to invest in a hotel scheme.

One of the problems which the young women are figuring on is how to protect the knives, forks, spoons, nap-

TRIBUNE'S GALLERY OF SMART SET

No. 25--Mrs. Gilbert Curtiss

Mrs. Gilbert Curtiss is considered one of the handsomest women in East Oakland. Her cheeks have the color of the rose; her complexion is as clear as the dawn, while her large eyes have the rich Italian glint. These qualities, her friends believe, make her a proper subject for the beauty contest. At present Mrs. Curtiss is traveling in Europe with her husband. However, if she wins the prize she will be promptly notified by cable.

THE TRIBUNE today received the following letter, dated London, from Mr. Curtiss: "Just returned from Scotland and Ireland. I have the distinction of being the only Californian registered who kissed the Blarney stone at Blarney Castle. I send you herewith picture of the same. We are enjoying the Franco-British Exposition. London is overflowing with humanity and it is next to impossible to find a bed in the hub of the world. Our travels are nearing an end. We are all well."

$3,000.00 FOR just one cup of GOOD COFFEE

PLYMOUTH, Mass.—A cup of coffee given by a warm-hearted soul from Plymouth colony to a stranger woman in a Boston railroad station years ago has been rewarded by a gift of $3,000. Mrs. L. Bailey of New York is the benefactor. The good Samaritan was Mrs. Harvey Parrott of Wellington.

Many years ago when Mrs. Parrott was in the old Kneeland street station of the Old Colony Railroad an elderly woman, well placed with the man of the house, was waiting for a train. Mrs. Parrott found the woman was suffering and she quickly slipped out to the lunch room and got a cup of warm coffee.

The woman she had helped did not forget. On the following Christmas she sent her a box of gifts and since then had remembered her with many presents. A climax in her gratitude was reached the other day, when she sent Mrs. Parrott $3,000 in good paying stocks in a New York factory and gave the option of disposing of the stock at their own value or keeping them for the 8 per cent dividends they will pay.

Emma Eames Has Set a Good Example To All Smart Sets

PARIS.—Mrs. Emma Eames has set a good example to society women by personally interfering to prevent abuse of animals. The Parisian, who is a member of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, has caused me to become unacquainted with the horses.

It is a pity that society or Smart Horse Parade—every horse is tail docked. It can shiver a bit, but the docked tail is a disgrace. The horse that suffers the most is the blue ribbon. Such a parade under the auspices of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, would be a disgrace.

I passed you by. Again I saw your neat, trim form and dainty feet. No two stars brighter than your eyes. No arched lips so sweet. With time-span gold your hair would glow.

At two o'clock I passed you by. The world was still busy as before; The sun rose the careless din, The day-time's weary roar. The sun was waning in the sky— At five o'clock I passed you by.

I passed you by. Yes, all three times, and looked you in the eyes; Did not the faintest memory within your heart arise? Came no regret for might have been, Nor no reproach for signs?

Envoi. I may as well speak truthfully— 'Tis not much use to lie— I'd never seen you, dear, before, And so, I passed you by.

STUNNING LOOKING WOMAN With Red Hair Looks Like Mrs. Elinor Glyn

NEW YORK.—Although Mrs. Marcus, to whom the Earl of Clancarty, the widower of Belle Bliton, is reported engaged, is described as a wealthy widow prominent in New York society, she is only known to a very few people here. She is a stunning looking woman with red hair, rather past her first youth.

Last winter she lived at the Plaza, which would indicate that she is not altogether a pauper and was frequently mistaken for people for Mrs. Elinor Glyn, the writer, whose picture she resembles. She has a son about fourteen years old, who is preparing to enter Annapolis. She was born in London, Ontario, and her maiden name was Lillian Becket. She married Arnold Marcus, a banker, and lived for

For the Quick-tempered

Anger Weakens Vitality Doctor Says

Dr. Maurice de Fleury, a distinguished Frenchman, has just written a short scientific treatise, in which he advances the interesting theory that every time a person becomes angry, his vitality shrinks so much in proportion to every outburst. After even the most artificially suppressed anger, he says, the victim becomes smaller and smaller until finally nothing is left.

The moral of this French treatise, of course, says the Baltimore Sun, is that we should never allow ourselves to become angry if we value our health and life.

Anger is a certain kind of excitement, explains Dr. de Fleury. The typical subject is a man whose nerve while the excitement comes inflamed only by a bound of reaction excited from out. But at the moment when they are let loose, the two are like the strong man is a blinder, while the weak man is a blinder, and an actor and seems to aim at a Prof. Lange of the University of Copenhagen has described these symptoms with precision in an important little book, which has been the starting point and confirmation of almost all recent researches.

He holds that all the emotions are due to disorders of the circulation of the blood, and anger, in particular, to an intense dilation of the small arteries of the brain.

He describes redness and swelling of the face as a constant sign of anger, forgetting the "white rage" which is so frequent and impressive. But he has brought into strong relief this constant fact—that anger is a state of general hypercervation.

The whole organism, the muscles, the glands—for anger has its tears, sweats, and foaming at the mouth—manifestly set in action by a superabundant lance of nervous influx, begin to work to excess, act for the sake of acting in disorder, without aim, without utility, solely to relieve their over-tension.

ARE MODERN MEN WELL MANNERED?

It is whispered in print now and again that the manners of men of the not all that they should be. This, however, is not borne out by facts; on the contrary, ladies, as a rule, are well placed with the man of the house, and their men friends and acquaintances would be utterly surprised to find that they were waiting in politeness, easy, and in all that goes to make a man's manners. It may be said with truth that the men of the future are the men with whom they associate; if these are free and easy it is because the style that is followed in the future, if it is followed, is the style of the future.

The majority of women in these up-to-date days take things from a common sense point of view. They do not expect to be worshipped as goddesses, or to be flattered or complimented as in the days gone by, when ultra-deferential, high-down sentimentality was in good taste. Now, were it forthcoming ever so slightly, it would be a nuisance.

Men and women of this age are not romantic; they are nothing if they are not practical and strictly sensible, and the friendship between them is on this rational basis. Although this is so, and although they may be the best of comrades, the one does not forget what is due to the other. This is not an age of chivalry, it is true, but men never fail in the respect which the other sex commands.

To allude to those women who place themselves on an equality with men, and, as it were, unsex themselves in their endeavors to be very manly and not at all womanly, would be out of place; they are exceptions, not examples, and must be regarded as such. The "nice women" and "the nice men" that adorn the present century are good types to consider, and there is little fault to be found with their manners, and little possibility of detecting it.

In this money-making age it should be understood that many men come to the front who have not the training necessary to make them perfect gentlemen, and many errors in good manners they are guilty of socially should be judged accordingly, and it should not be supposed that the manners of the generality of men are on a par with those of the few.

On the other hand, very many self-made men are nature's gentlemen in the truest sense of the word, and though they may now and then make some little blunder, they are not to be faulted for it. They are not to be faulted for it. They are not to be faulted for it.

RAVENNA, O.—Thrusting a revolver in the face of Roy Craig, 35, married and the father of two children, who live with their mother in Bradville, Frank Kibler of Bradville, convicted of a murder, lay in wait for his wife's affinity. Craig reached for a weapon, Kibler declared later, and Kibler fired two bullets into him. Craig is dying in a hospital here, and Kibler is in the Portage county jail.

Kibler is 20 years old and several years his wife's junior. He went to the home of Mrs. Kibler's mother, near Palmyra, to discuss domestic differences, which Kibler blames on Craig. Mrs. Kibler went to her mother's home after only a few months' wedded life. Being told that his wife was out driving with Craig, Kibler lay in wait.

DEATH AND DEVASTATION IN BIG STORM

Ruef's Attorney Says C. F. Oliver Has No Right to Sign Subpoenas as Public Officer. Will Make Protest.

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Attorney Ruef, representing Abraham Ruef, may protest to Judge Cabanis against the action of Charles F. Oliver, one of Burns' gun-shoe men, signing himself as a police officer of the city and county of San Francisco while engaged in the service as detective.

CONTEMPT OF COURT.
Newburg says that Oliver is guilty of contempt of court. "The subpoena to which the detective has affixed his signature as a police officer was that summoning J. E. Green of the Park Realty Company as a witness in the Ruef case."

It is claimed that a private citizen serving a subpoena must be armed with an affidavit giving him the necessary power.

Farmer, 83 Years, Wanted to Elope With Young Girl of 13

ELIZABETH WALLS, showing her in short dress.

CHILD TELLS OF STRANGE WOOING

Old Man's Body Was Found Hanging From Limb of Tree.

MARYDEL, July 24.—Elizabeth Walls, a 13-year-old girl, to wed whom William Williams, 83 years old, had obtained a marriage license, and whose dead body was found hanging to a tree in his orchard, has finally told the police all about the old man's courtship of her.

There were many suspicious things in the circumstances surrounding the man's death and one or two suspects are under arrest. She tells the story of her clandestine meetings with the old farmer. She said that these secret meetings were held in the woods. Asked if he ever kissed her, she first said "No" and then admitted that he used to kiss and hug her a good deal. But she insisted that his love frightened her more than it pleased her. She said:

"I used to meet Mr. Williams sometimes and we would go for a walk in the woods. He was always very nice to me, but I didn't want very much to marry him because he was too old. When I would tell him this he would love me and kiss me and call me 'Honey' and tell me that if I would marry him he would go away and never come back."

"He told me he loved me more than anybody in the world, even more than his first wife, and that if I would marry him he would make me happy."

WANTED TO KIDNAP HER.
Elizabeth added to her story the interesting fact that Williams wanted to kidnap her and declared: "He got some of my clothing out of the house several weeks ago. He told me then that if I did not love him and would not run off with him to be married he would run away and never come back. I cried a whole lot when he told me this. I liked Mr. Williams, but I wanted to stay home with my mamma and papa. I am too young to get married now and I told Mr. Williams this, too."

"I don't want to say that Mr. Williams would harm me, but the way he made love to me frightened me."

BOUGHT HER DRESS.
The girl told also how once Williams had bought her a white silk bridal dress. She accepted the dress and took it home, but did not tell her father the purpose for which it had been given her.

Elizabeth said that Williams had told her on more than one occasion that he knew people objected to his marrying her and that he was afraid that something might happen.

"The girl's father said that he never had any idea of letting Williams marry his daughter."

Present When the People Who Agreed to Give False Evidence Against Him Were Arraigned.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Frank J. Gould, who is being sued for divorce by Mrs. Helen Kelley Gould, appeared at the Tombs Police Court this afternoon at the hearing of the three persons charged with agreeing to give false evidence against him.

Assistant District Attorney Hart told Mari-estate Corrigan, before whom the prisoners were arraigned, that Miss Julia Fleming had made a confession.

MEET TO SELECT BRYAN'S MANAGER

Sub-Committee Will Be joined in Chicago by Bryan and Kern.

CHICAGO, July 4.—Thomas Taggart and Nathan Cole, members of the subcommittee of the Democratic National Committee, arrived here today from their respective homes in Indiana and California to attend the meeting of the committee which tomorrow will choose a campaign manager. Other members of the subcommittee, which numbers eleven, are expected late in the day, while William J. Bryan and his running mate, John W. Kern, will arrive tomorrow morning.

Mr. Taggart declared today that he had no idea as to who would be the new chairman of the national committee. That he said, was a matter which could not be canvassed until tomorrow's meeting was formally called to order.

OTHER MILITIAMEN CAN GO THROUGH STATE

SACRAMENTO, July 24.—Adjutant-General Lauck has made an order to the effect that militia companies from other states may pass through California. The order was made because troops from New Mexico and Arizona are coming here to take part in military maneuvers to be held by the regular army and the National Guard at Atascadero.

DYNAMITE CAPS ARE MYSTERY

Who Put Them on Roof of John L. Coleman's House in Myrtle Avenue—Police Asked to Find Out.

Who put eight dynamite cartridges on the roof of the Coleman home at 820 Myrtle street?

The police would like to know and so would John L. Coleman and his father, John L. Coleman. The discovery was made yesterday morning as young Coleman was cleaning the chimney of the Coleman house. They were packed in a small box, such as is used for jewelry. Cotton was packed around the explosives. The box was evidently thrown on the roof, for the edges of the box were torn as if with the impact of the falling weight of the cartridges.

SCARED HIM AT FIRST.
"At first, I was afraid to pick them up, not knowing but what they might be explosives—in fact, I sort of suspected that they were dynamite. How they got there is mysterious," said John Coleman this morning in speaking about his discovery. The box with its contents was turned over to Sergeant of Police Mulgrew by Coleman.

"There has been so much talk about dynamite in Oakland of late that the idea immediately occurred to me. It looks as if they were put there to be gotten out of the way quickly. There is a ladder near the chimney and it would have been a matter of but a couple of minutes for anyone to run up the ladder and deposit or throw the box in the groove of the roof where they were found," said Coleman.

LAID THERE HURRIEDLY.
"It is hardly likely that the cartridges were put there by mischievous boys. It would be difficult to account for boys having such things in their possession. I haven't the least doubt but that the cartridges were put on our roof by some one wanting to get rid of them in a hurry. From the appearance of the box, I should say that they had not been there long—probably a couple of weeks or so. The pastboard outside was discolored from sunburn, but otherwise the box looked new. If any one wants to come forward and claim them, they are welcome to the lot of them. It is a queer case, and we are as much in the dark about the affair as you are."

WORKS IN CIGAR STORE.
Coleman is employed in a cigar store near Seventh and Market streets. Previous to this he was for eighteen months in the employ of the Pacific Coast Lumber Company, working as an apprentice learning the shipbuilding trade. The elder Coleman is a tanner in the employ of the gas company. The family has resided in this city for the past two decades, young Coleman having been born and educated in Oakland. He is well spoken of by his friends.

OPPOSE FUSION IN CAMPAIGN

California Delegation to Independence League Convention Favors Independent Ticket.

WINNEPEG, N. D., July 23.—Against fusion with any other party and unanimously for an independent nominee for President, the California delegation to the big Independence League national convention, in caucus this afternoon, adopted similar resolutions.

In caucus this afternoon the delegates unanimously in favor of a straight-up independence league party. Presidential ticket. The Nevada delegation adopted similar resolutions.

J. E. Henderson, chairman of the Alameda county committee, and elected chairman of the California delegation, Hugh J. McInnis was Henderson's choice and the delegates wished him to take the place. McInnis, however, advanced Henderson's candidacy in recognition of the energetic and efficient work done by Henderson in the league, and Henderson was unanimously elected. His work in presiding over the caucus could not be forgotten.

Ernest Duden of San Francisco was elected secretary and Edward Rainey of Berkeley, assistant secretary. Both have been working for some time for the principles for which the Independence League is fighting.

The important place of member on the resolutions committee fell to Frank E. Kellogg, secretary of Santa Barbara Chamber of Commerce.

C. B. Husey of San Francisco was elected to the resolutions committee, and Henderson was unanimously elected. His work in presiding over the caucus could not be forgotten.

The Nevada delegation also caucused this afternoon. It adopted strong anti-fusion resolutions. General J. C. Hargraves of Carson City, who named Bryan "Painless Leader" while seconding his nomination in one of the several conventions before which Bryan has appeared, was elected chairman of the Nevada delegation.

"I have lost faith in Bryan," said the General. "A consistent man cannot follow one who sacrifices principles to an ambition."

Bored Into River And 25 Drowned

NONE OF THE HIGHWAYMEN WORKMEN HOLDS UP TRAIN ESCAPE

Another Big Disaster Marks the Tunnelling of the Bernese Alps—Works Are Now Submerged.

BERNE, Switzerland, July 24.—There was a frightful accident early this morning in the Lotzbueg tunnel in the Bernese Alps which resulted in the death of 25 workmen.

The men were drilling inside the tunnel. Without warning their tools pierced the wall that separated them from a subterranean river or lake, the existence of which was not known. The wall gave way with a crash and a torrent of water and mud rushed into the tunnel and filled it.

EVERYONE IS DROWNED.
All of the workmen were drowned. They were Italians.

Fortunately, owing to the early hour, comparatively few men had entered the tunnel. The disaster occurred 2,400 yards from the northern entrance. It is believed the men tapped the Kand river which flows through the mountains above the tunnel. The water now chokes the tunnel within 1,000 yards of the entrance.

ARRESTED FOR KIDNAPING HIS DAUGHTER BY FORCE

Alleged He Put a Revolver to Her Head

REDDING, July 24.—Emil Arntsen, who was arrested last night at Kennett, charged with attempting to kidnap his 20-year-old adopted daughter Lena, was placed in jail here today. The complaint charges that Arntsen used a revolver in a threatening manner, earned the young woman against her will in a buggy and drove off with her screaming.

He took her to Kennett and placed her with a private family which, he said, she is afraid to leave. Arntsen and his adopted daughter were recently residents of Anderson county.

STRANGE WOMAN SHADOWS WEDDING

24 Pinkertons and 100 Servants Guard Millionaire Widow and Count at Marriage.

PHILADELPHIA, July 24.—With twenty-four Pinkertons and private detectives and more than a hundred armed servants, the wedding of Mrs. John B. Stetson, widow of the millionaire hat manufacturer, became the scene of a "bizarre" morning of Alexis d'Orleans, Count of St. Maurice d'Almeida e Vasconcellos, Count of St. Maurice, and his bride, the daughter of a Philadelphia banker, for New York at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Much mystery surrounds the identity and the actions of a Portuguese woman who appeared before the main gate of the estate on the Old York road at 5 o'clock in the morning. She attempted to force her way through the gates, but was repulsed by the guards. She continued to attempt to enter the grounds all morning and afternoon.

"If those guards knew my name they would not dare stop me," she said. She did not give it, however, and at the house it was said she was probably some crank.

After the ceremony was over the count and his bride left the house by a side door. They were ushered into a Limousine car, completely covered with black skins. No one from the outside could catch even a slight glimpse of those within.

LIGHTNING KILLS 3; 50 HURT

BOLTS RAISE HAVOC IN MILITIA CAMP

Many Women Visitors at Gettysburg Experience the Wildest Night Since Memorable Days of 1863.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 24.—An all-night search throughout Camp Hayes, where the 10,000 men of the National Guard of Pennsylvania have been in camp for a week and which was last night visited by a terrific electrical and windstorm, shows that three soldiers were struck dead by lightning and that nearly half a hundred other persons were injured by the electrical bolts or were otherwise hurt. It was probably the wildest night the historic battleground has experienced since the memorable July days of 1863.

THREE KILLED.
Those killed were:

CORPORAL C. MILTON GARVER, Company C, Tenth Regiment, Uniontown.

JAMES A. BARBE, Company K, Tenth Regiment, Waynesburg.

PRIVATE CLYDE MORRISON, Company D, Sixteenth Regiment.

The dead were members of the Second Brigade composed of regiments from the western part of the State, most of the storm damage occurring in the section of the field occupied by that brigade.

Most of the hospital tent area filled with the injured, some of whom are women and children who had been visiting the camp.

WOMEN NEAR DEATH.
The tent which Governor Stuart had been occupying during the storm was blown down by the terrific wind, and the governor and those who were his guests at the time were buried under the canvas. With the governor were Charles E. Mann, of the state railroad commission, Colonel Good of the First Regiment, Philadelphia, and Captain P. L. Weaver, formerly of the First Regiment. They were all thrown to the ground by the falling canvas, but managed to crawl out into the open.

In the tent adjoining that of the governor were the sisters of Governor Stuart, Miss Cora Stuart of Harrisburg and Mrs. Lester of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Charles B. Phillips. They were all there for the usual evening band concert and could not get back to town before the storm broke. It was with the greatest difficulty that the tent they occupied was kept from collapsing.

FLAGSTAFF FALLS.
To add to the excitement at division headquarters the tall flagstaff in front of the tents of Governor Stuart and General Wiley was struck by lightning, stunning several members of the governor's staff.

In the case of each man killed, the new army pattern furnished hat before the storm went into camp, were torn by their limbs, the steel rib being exposed. Some of the officers believe the steel attracted the lightning.

Garver was in the tent when he was struck. About thirty persons were in a heap, severely shocking all of them. Then it shot along the ground thirty feet to the tent of Chief Muslin Morrison, knocking him out and stunning Morrison, Chrysler and their wives. It tore Chrysler's coat to shreds and twisted his alto horn into a shapeless mess.

BOLT KILLED HIM.
An instant later, fifty yards away, another bolt struck Barbe, killing him. His watch stopped at 9:26.

Private Morrison was standing at the hospital tent when he was struck. There was seven or eight patients in it, suffering from the heat.

During a storm Tuesday night Lieutenant Paul K. Morison, of the First Regiment, was killed by lightning while on regimental duty.

The storm which had been brewing all last evening broke suddenly. The wind blew with almost cyclonic force, the rain came down in torrents and the lightning was the severest seen here in years. Although the hour was getting late, the camp officers ordered a number of who had been delayed by the difficulties which always obtain in camp the night before the regiments leave for home.

SCENE OF HAVOC.
The second brigade is situated in the lowest field of the camp ground and every company street was soon a running stream. Everywhere tents were collapsing and lightning bolts were striking in many places. For a time after confusion reigned but as the storm passed off the commanders of the several regiments brought about order and began a systematic search for injured guardsmen.

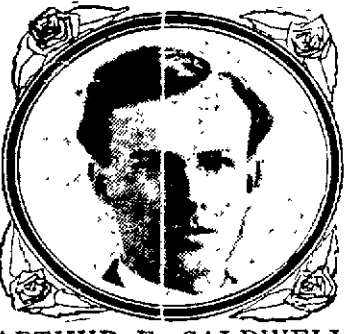

As rapidly as they were found they were removed to the hospital tent and given attention by regimental surgeons.

HEADACHE POWDER MAY HAVE KILLED MERCHANT

MONROVIA, Cal., July 24.—Henry Campbell, 37 years old, a native of this city, died suddenly at his home early this morning. It is believed that a "headache powder" he had taken had his end. He had suffered with heart trouble for some time and was a frequent user of powders which contained acetanilid, a strong depressant, in dangerous quantities.

WILL LECTURE ON U. S. MAIL SERVICE

A. H. Stephens to Address Local Society of Bank Clerks.

ARTHUR E. CALDWELL.

The commencement of the educational committee's plans for the season of 1908-9 in connection with Oakland Chapter of the American Institute of Banking will be marked by a lecture to be given on Friday, July 24th, by Superintendent A. H. Stephens of the U. S. Railway Mail Service in San Francisco, descriptive of the system and methods in use by the government in this branch of the service. While the topic is not strictly along banking lines, it has a certain interest attaching to it as involving intricate correspondence features, embracing centralization of reports, by no means a small item in the banking world.

In the absence of President F. M. Corliss of the Chapter, who is representing Oakland at the sixth annual convention of the Associated Chapters, now being

MISSING DAUGHTER ELOPED, SAYS FATHER

MARTINEZ, July 24.—Asking the aid of the police in a search for his missing daughter, William Denovich has told them details of what he believes to have been an elopement.

The girl's name is Miss Kate Denovich, and her father believes she has wedded William A. Davis, a young farm helper, and fled to Washington State. The young woman is but seventeen years of age, and the father has asked that William be arrested.

The girl has been missing since Saturday, when she said she was going to meet a friend. She had asked her parents for consent to her marriage to Davis, but had been refused, and when she failed to return the theory of an elopement was immediately suggested to her father. So far he has found no trace of her, but is of the opinion that she has gone with Davis to Oregon or Washington.

held in Providence, R. I., Vice-President Arthur E. Caldwell will preside for the purpose of introducing Stephens to the members.

TO USE NEW QUARTERS.

The affair will be held in the handsome Chapter rooms just fitted up in the Oakland Clearing House building, this being the first time that the new quarters have been used for educational purposes.

During the evening a report will be submitted from a special committee, composed of John S. Killam, chairman; A. L. Anderson and G. L. Downing as to the possibility of the Chapter chartering a steamer for a day's outing on the bay in the early part of the month. Chapter members and their wives and families will make up the party if favorably decided upon.

COUNCIL MAY PROCEED WITH IMPROVEMENT OF WATERFRONT

Committee and Citizens Meet and Hold Interesting Conference

According to the sentiment that prevailed last night at a meeting of the wharves and waterfront committee of the City Council an election for waterfront improvement bonds is likely to be called in this city within a comparatively short time.

There was no question among those present that Oakland opportunity is ripe, and among those who urged immediate action were: Frank A. Leach, president of the Chamber of Commerce; A. J. Snyder, president of the Oakland Real Estate Association; A. C. Schlesinger, broker; Wilbur Walker, secretary of the Merchants' Exchange; R. L. Hamblin, president of the Building Trades Council; N. R. Greenfelder, president of the Harbor League; August Hanberg, capitalist; Charles Murrell, president of the Progress Club; W. W. Garthwaite of the Clearing-house Association; F. P. Brown, assistant city engineer; and Oliver Blisworth, president of the City Council. Of the members of the committee there were: Mayor Jackson and Councilmen: Dean Burns, Backus and Bonner.

ABOUT THE AMOUNT.

The only difference of opinion was in the amount of bonds to be voted at the first issue and the point of beginning improvements for which plans were recently presented to the Council, representing an expenditure of $5,000,000.

Generally it was believed that what is known as the "white meat" should be the first point of attack. The amount estimated to carry this part of the plan into execution is estimated at $3,000,000 and it was argued that a part of this sum might be devoted to doing a portion of the work in the estuary which is known as plan No. 3, for the accommodation of the coastwise trade.

Frank A. Leach advocated the estuary improvement as a first consideration, but thought a beginning should be made at once, believing that the people of the city stood ready to vote for it.

A. J. Snyder preferred the building of the docks and wharves at the "white meat"—that portion of the waterfront between the moles of the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific railroads. He urged this for the accommodation of deep-sea vessels, and said the executive committee of his organization, the Real Estate Association, was heartily in favor of the work.

FAVORS "WHITE MEAT."

A. C. Schlesinger favored the "white meat" project as a starting point, in order to prevent the railroads from seizing it or coming into control by legislative action, which is to be feared at the next session of the Legislature.

Wilbur Walker favored the estuary, and urged the question of title as a hindrance to beginning work on the "white meat," or plan No. 2, but President Blisworth has the opinion of the Council was any such question the city ought to force the issue, as it had already exhibited too much tenderness.

N. R. Greenfelder favored plan No. 2, but was for dividing up the work so as to have at least one dock for North Oakland, so that people of that portion of the city would vote for the bonds.

Councilman Backus expressed the opinion that the bonds should not carry at first but was alone in the expression of that belief.

As a conclusion it was agreed that a bond issue should be set before the people at from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000, and that the sum was voted should be spent in the estuary and in the improvement of the "white meat."

OKLAHOMA'S GOVERNOR TO BE DEMOCRATS' TREASURER

Declined Office of Committee Chairman

GUTHRIE, Okla., July 24.—Governor C. N. Haskell has been tendered the treasurership of the Democratic national committee. Formal announcement, carrying his acceptance, it is said, will be made when the committee meets for organization in Chicago next Saturday.

Before the national convention the Bryan forces urged the Oklahoma executive to take the active management of the campaign as the committee chairman. This selection, it is known, would have been highly satisfactory to Bryan, but as the appointment would have necessitated Governor Haskell's almost continued absence from Oklahoma until the election, the place was declined after the convention had completed its work.

WILL MAKE SPEECHES.

As treasurer it will not be necessary for him to leave the State for any length of time, which is a condition to have been largely responsible for the Governor's decision. It is not Governor Haskell's present intention to attend the Chicago meeting.

Later he intends to devote some time in making speeches and has been awaiting the committee's pleasure before making arrangements here. He will appear in Ohio, Iowa and other central States and perhaps as far west as California.

IN THE STATE

Placed Under Death Watch: San Quentin.—John Stensen and Louis Dabner, the "gas pipe thugs," convicted of the murder of M. Munkwitz, a San Francisco Japanese banker, and confessed murderers of William Fields and Johannes Pitzner, San Francisco merchants, nearly two years ago, will go to the death chamber of the prison tomorrow, where they will be placed under the death watch until their hanging one week later.

Gunning's Wife Repentant: Marysville.—O. Gunning, county recorder of Yuba county, who was arrested last Tuesday on a complaint by his wife, who alleged that he had beaten her with a whip, was discharged today on the request of his wife. She told the court that she made the charges in a fit of passion.

Knife Wound Shows Suicide: San Jose.—The suspicion that J. Jordan of San Francisco had been under the influence of alcohol was not at rest by testimony at the inquest tonight. It was shown that he had shot himself in the chest with a knife, swallowed a dose of arsenic while sitting on a toilet, and then had been found in a rooming house, a quarter of a mile, leaped a fence and laid down on the railroad track to die.

Penitents Cause Deaths: Santa Rosa.—Death from eating peanuts is the unusual record made near Healdsburg, this county, when Ray Lester Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson of Guadalupe, died at the Clenden and Turlock ranch. The child strangled over a mouthful of the nuts and in so doing inhaled some of the same into his lungs and inflammation set in, causing his death in spite of all that could be done to save him.

Member Robs Y. M. C. A.: Sacramento.—The state of the local Young Men's Christian Association office was robbed last night of $125 in gold and the association officials make the startling charge today that George Ransom, a trusted member of the Young Men's Christian Association, and who had been told the combination of the strong box, is the guilty party. Ransom has mysteriously disappeared.

Mexican Stabbed: Los Angeles.—The body of a Mexican laborer, covered with knife wounds, was found today in the river bed near Ninth street. Nearly a score of wounds had been inflicted by the dagger, and his head had been pitted seven times. The dead man is supposed to be Teobacion Rodriguez, and the police are looking for a man who was seen in his company at midnight near the river.

Revolutionists' Case Goes Over: Los Angeles.—Attorneys for Maximo, Villareal and Rivera, the Mexican revolutionists, have received word from Washington that their application for a writ of habeas corpus will not be heard until the October term of the United States Supreme Court, must remain in the County Jail unless the Supreme Court should allow the prisoners to give bail.

Prominent Dead: Davis.—Davis Leav, for fourteen years a prominent merchant here, dropped dead yesterday while conducting a big grain deal with a customer. He was 58 years old and leaves relatives residing in San Francisco.

Mrs. J. W. Thornley, Kaysville, Utah, Writes:

"I could name all the persons to whom I have recommended Murine. Eye Remedy you would need no other proof of its value to me. I will never be without Murine Eye Remedy in the house. I had my Baby under a Specialist's treatment and worked diligently under his directions for three weeks, but her eyes seemed to grow worse. When I heard of Murine I stopped using everything else and used Murine according to directions. In a few days her eyes were entirely well and they are now so bright and clear one would never think she had never had weak eyes."

MISS NELLIE V. NICHOLS.

GREGIAN ACTRESS ON A VISIT HERE

Pays Tribute to Construction and National Appearance of Berkeley Greek Theater.

Miss Nellie V. Nichols, the only Grecian-American on the stage recently came from New York and is registered at the Adams Hotel. Within the last year King George of Greece conferred an honor upon the Nichols household.

FATHER FROM CRETE
Miss Nichols is descended from ancestors of note, who ranked high in intellectual and social circles of Greece. Her father was a native of Crete and her mother was born in Athens. Miss Nichols is a type of Grecian beauty and is much admired.

THE GREEK THEATER
In speaking of the Greek theater at Berkeley, Miss Nichols said in every detail but one, the Greek amphitheater in Berkeley compares with those of Greece. The ancient aspect is somewhat taken away by the electric lights which have been installed here.

DETAILS PERFECT.
Every detail seems to have been carried out. The theater is one of the first that I have seen that resembles the old structure in almost every detail, and it is beautifully finished.

AN ORIGINAL NOVELTY IN THE ICE CREAM LINE

Lehnhardt Proposes to Make a Dessert for Next Sunday Which Will be Absolutely New—Gives Some Interesting Information

"It isn't the easiest thing in the world to think up something in the form of a frozen dessert every Sunday," said Lehnhardt, the candy man, this morning. "But I certainly have figured out a novelty for next Sunday. It is a brick combination we have been working on for quite a while and one we would have used three weeks ago if it had been perfected. Few people realize what a lot of work it is to get these combinations just right and so that they blend properly, sometimes we spend two or three months on one dessert before we get it right. "The dessert for next Sunday," continued Mr. Lehnhardt, is based on hazel nuts which are first carefully sorted and cleaned, then roasted. We then grind them up into a paste which is then mixed with extra heavy cream and frozen. We use the nuts as a flavor and get an exquisite taste which I am sure no other ice cream maker in this State will be able to duplicate. We then make a grape water ice, using the purest Weitz's Grape Juice made and a chocolate ice cream which we combine with the hazel nuts in a brick. We will put these bricks up in individual freezers and deliver them Sunday at 80c a brick, or deliver the plain hazel nut ice cream in quart freezers at 75c a quart. Mr. Lehnhardt requested the writer to impress the readers of THE TRIB-

UNE with the necessity of ordering their desserts early if they wished them delivered Sunday. Last week a great many ladies phoned in Friday night and were delighted to receive the dessert so promptly on Sunday which service was to be attributed to the fact that they ordered early enough to enable Lehnhardt's delivery men to plan their trips in accordance with which the orders came in. The combination of hazel nut, chocolate and grape water ice is an ideal one, for each seems to blend into the flavor of the other perfectly. It is a well-known fact that grape juice is a perfect summer drink with a flavor possessed by no other beverage. Of course in freezing the juice none of this flavor is lost and when you combine the rich taste of the Concord grape with the exquisite flavor of the hazel nut, and finish it off with chocolate you have a combination delicious past all description.

By telephoning Oakland 497 this evening or tomorrow morning you will be sure of no disappointment, and also relieve your own mind as to the dessert feature of your Sunday dinner. This particular special is considered to be the best that Lehnhardt has so far made, not even excepting the wonderful Delmonico golden ice cream which created such a furor a few weeks ago.

S.S.S. CURES SKIN DISEASES

When the blood is pure and healthy, the skin will be soft, smooth, and free from all blemishes and eruptions; but when some acid humor takes root in the circulation, its presence is quickly manifested by some form of skin disease. The skin receives its necessary nourishment and strength from the blood. When, however, this vital fluid becomes a humor-laden stream, it can no longer preserve the healthy, natural appearance of the skin, but by its acid, impure nature continually irritates and inflames the delicate tissues and fibres and keeps the cuticle in a diseased and disfigured condition. External applications cannot reach the blood, and therefore are beneficial only for their ability to reduce inflammation, and assist in keeping the parts clean. To cure any skin trouble the blood must be purified of the humors that are causing the trouble. S. S. S. drives out the humors from the blood so that the skin, instead of being irritated and diseased, is nourished by a healthy, cooling stream. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation and removes every particle of impure matter, all acids and humors, and restores the blood to its normal, pure condition, thereby curing every form of skin disease or affection. Look on skin diseases and any medical advice free to all who write.

APPORTIONMENT OF DELEGATES IS ARRANGED BY SUPERVISORS

Board Acts on District Attorney's Opinion; Makes Few Changes

The special meeting of the Board of Supervisors held yesterday afternoon to determine the apportionment of the delegates to the Fifteenth and sixteenth assembly districts proposed by the Republican county central committee was opened by Chairman John Mitchell at 3:30 p. m. All of the Supervisors being present. Some minor matters were first disposed of after which Mitchell stated the object of the meeting, and requested District Attorney Brown to give his opinion.

Brown said that after his former opinion had been rendered to the board an amended petition was sent in by the Republican county central committee. He said that he wanted to be present personally to consider this matter in order that he might take up and decide all matters in regard to the election call.

FIRST QUESTION.

"Taking up the first question," said Brown, "of whether or not the Supervisors have a right to accept any amendments to a petition filed by a county committee for the apportionment of delegates the county governing committee has the power to make this apportionment and the board of election commissioners only has the right to make the apportionment in case of any erroneous apportionment being made by the county governing committee. I do not believe the Board of Supervisors has any right to act in that matter or to correct the mistake of the Republican county central committee."

"Secondly, whether or not the county central committee has any right to correct their petition. I do not think the county central committee has any right to correct or make any amendments to a petition within the thirty days before the election."

RESTORE LINES

The only way I see for this matter to be corrected is for the Board of Supervisors to restore the lines as they were and I do not think they have any right to correct any other minor details. I understand from the County Clerk that the other party lines have been drawn in the same manner as those of the Republican county committee and I would urge the board to change these lines and this only in order that the election call may all be legalized."

George W. Reed stated that while he believed that the Board of Supervisors had no jurisdiction in the matter yet in view of the District Attorney's opinion and of the fact that the same county committee affected all parties he would present a resolution making the apportionment along the lines of the District Attorney's view.

OFFERS RESOLUTION.

Mr. Reed then presented the following resolution:

"Resolved: That the apportionment of delegates to the Fifteenth and sixteenth assembly districts be restored to the lines as they were before the election."

GAS PIPE MURDERER IS ON VERGE OF BREAK DOWN

Siemens and Dabner Under Surveillance of Death Watch.

Siemens and Dabner, the gas pipe murderers, were put under the surveillance of the death watch at San Quentin prison today. Their cell is only thirty feet from the spot where the scaffold stands. Guards Kelly and Clark will alternate in the constant look-out that is to be kept over the prisoners until their execution on next Friday morning. Neither of them has consented to receive spiritual consolation and it is believed that both will go to the gallows without a clergyman.

PICTORIAL SIDE OF 'GREAT DIVIDE' IS BIG FEATURE

The pictorial side of 'The Great Divide' in which Henry Miller is to appear at the Macdonough July 27 to August 11 is said to be strikingly fine. The first two scenes are full of the atmosphere and color of the boundless West pervaded by the spirit of mountains and plains. The first act represents the conflict between the hero and the heroine—the typifying of the untamed, lawless freedom of the mountain and desert and the meeting of the Puritan ideal of the North. The third scene is a grandeur of the scene gives an almost epic background to the struggle of the two national temperaments of east and west. Stephen Grant is the hero and the heroine is played by the famous actress, Mrs. Frank Dickson of San Francisco. The play is a masterpiece of dramatic art and is a masterpiece of scenic art. The play is a masterpiece of dramatic art and is a masterpiece of scenic art.

NEW MANAGER OF TEAM IS ACTIVE

Confident of Victory for His Men in Series with Cordovas at Sacramento.

ALAMEDA, July 24.—Al Kihn, the new manager of the Alameda State League team, who is to take the active management of the team on August 1, and who is actually in charge of the team now, watched his men at practice yesterday and had a little heart to heart talk with each. Kihn said this morning that he signed Johnny J. Hopkins last night and would pitch him at Sacramento Sunday, Johnson pitching tomorrow.

Kihn has also signed a new shortstop, Askew, of the Three I. League. Askew, who is a bit stiff, but is expected to be in his opening game at Sacramento tomorrow. If he fails to play up to expectations, Kihn has his eye on another short.

MAY LAND BYRNES.

Jimmie Byrnes will not be back from Honolulu until next month, but when he returns from the islands Kihn will make an effort to land him, if he finds that it is necessary to further strengthen the team.

Broadbent will be out of the game all at his first appearance, dislocated a knee early in the season at Santa Cruz and has been out of the game since, though he has been carried on the salary roll. He will leave for home in a few days.

Manager Kihn has re-assigned his players, putting back into outer garden Duffy Lewis, who played third while Hallahan took Broadbent's place at short. Lewis will not, however, go back into right field, but will trade places with Dunleavy, going into left garden, while Dun takes Lewis' old place in right. Britt will remain in center field.

EXTRAS RELEASED.

The extra players on the team have been reduced to one extra pitcher. This means the release of Sparks, Smith, Levy and Heaton, and will leave the line-up of the team as follows: Catcher, Buckley; pitchers, Johnson and Hopkins; first base, Forlin; second base, Russell; third base, Hallahan; shortstop, Askew; left field, G. Lewis; center field, Britt; right field, Dunleavy.

Kihn said that this arrangement and re-assignment of the ten men retained would undoubtedly greatly strengthen the team and that he was confident of taking one, if not both games from the Cordovas in the series opening tomorrow afternoon.

STUDENTS VISIT THE FACTORIES

Members of Summer School in Department of Economics Investigate Industries.

BERKELEY, July 24.—In order to study the economic conditions existing in the factories along the water front, thirty members of the economics classes of the University of California summer session, under the tutelage of Professor S. Litman, visited the factories in West Berkeley today.

The party was escorted to the different concerns in automobiles, which were furnished by the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce.

The students and their instructor were met at each concern by the managers, who extended them the privilege of inspecting the different departments of the institution, where the principles of the division of labor and of the evolution of the finished article from the raw material was demonstrated.

How the product was distributed and proper markets found for it was also explained. The instructor carefully avoided allusions to theories of labor unions and other branches of economics outside the general principles underlying the economic.

Receives Posters.—Secretary Ralph A. Russell of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce has received the posters announcing membership in the chamber, which are distributed to the members. The sign is framed in a narrow gilt frame and contains the words: "Member Alameda Chamber of Commerce."

Signs Stolen.—The real estate firm of J. Santa yesterday notified the Alameda police that someone was continually stealing the signs which were put up by them in the vacant house at the corner of Grand street and Enclinal avenue.

Protest Race.—It is believed that a number of the members of the Acolian Yacht Club will protest the yacht races held last Sunday. The meeting of the directors of the club has been postponed from tonight until next Tuesday night, and it is expected that the protest will be filed at that time.

The objection to the races by those who are protesting is that sufficient notice was not given of the regatta.

Wagon Hits Wagon; DRIVER IS NOT HURT

BERKELEY, July 24.—A wagon belonging to F. M. Sinder, a butcher, and driven by Frank Peonera, was hit by a south bound Southern Pacific local train at Bancroft and Kittredge streets at 9 o'clock this morning.

The harness was completely ripped off the horse, the wagon badly damaged, but neither Peonera nor his horse received a scratch. The stops on the baggage car of the train were knocked off by contact with the end of one of the rear axles of the wagon.

Protest Race.—It is believed that a number of the members of the Acolian Yacht Club will protest the yacht races held last Sunday. The meeting of the directors of the club has been postponed from tonight until next Tuesday night, and it is expected that the protest will be filed at that time.

The objection to the races by those who are protesting is that sufficient notice was not given of the regatta.

Receives Posters.—Secretary Ralph A. Russell of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce has received the posters announcing membership in the chamber, which are distributed to the members. The sign is framed in a narrow gilt frame and contains the words: "Member Alameda Chamber of Commerce."

Signs Stolen.—The real estate firm of J. Santa yesterday notified the Alameda police that someone was continually stealing the signs which were put up by them in the vacant house at the corner of Grand street and Enclinal avenue.

NEW RAILROAD TO TAP VAST FIELDS

Large Network of Lines Now Being Built in Northern California.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—With the filing of articles of incorporation of the Modoc Northern Railway Company in the office of the County Clerk Wednesday the extensive plans for the development of Northeastern California and Southern Oregon were made public. For three years the Southern Pacific Company, through subsidiary corporations, has been building railways in that region, and this last corporation is only part of the system of leased lines which will tap vast areas of the richest land on the Pacific coast.

The Modoc Northern Railway Company has a capital stock of $3,000,000, divided into shares of the par value of $100 each. Its directors are E. E. Calvin, William F. Herrin, William Hood, W. R. Scott and J. L. Willcutt, officials of the Southern Pacific Company.

The bulk of the stock is held by Calvin and Herrin, who are the high officers of the parent company. According to the articles of incorporation, the Modoc Northern line will be built from Alturas, Modoc County, in a northwestern direction to a connecting point with the California Northwestern Railway, now being constructed from Weed, on the Southern Pacific Road in Siskiyou county, to Klamath Falls, Ore. Those two lines will meet near Klamath Falls, so the entire length of the Modoc Northern will be about 100 miles. Construction of the line will begin at once, and continued until the road is finished.

The line will open a virgin country in Northwestern California, connecting Alturas and its vicinity directly with the Southern Pacific road to Oregon. It will thus bring Modoc County within easy reach of San Francisco and the rest of the State of California, and obviate the long ride via Reno, Nev., to the Madeline plains, after which a stage ride of seventy-five miles is added to reach Alturas.

ROAD'S FINANCES HAVE IMPROVED

Line That Last Year Could Not Pay Taxes, Now Has Revenue
$21,987.64.

SACRAMENTO, July 24.—Today the Northern Electric Railway Company filed its second annual report with the State Board of Equalization. It shows that the Suburban railway has on hand revenue from its operations amounting to $21,987.65. When it is considered that the road was unable a year ago to pay its state taxes, when the latter fell due, the showing this year is considered excellent.

The company filed the following statement: Length system in state 108.9 miles; value entire roadway, roadbed and rails, $200,000; gross earnings from operations, $373,660.74; less operating expenses, $266,416.50; net income from operation, $107,244.24; interest on funded debt accrued $25,217.65; surplus, $21,987.64. The statement submitted today shows but one deficit as follows: Ocean Shore Railway, length of system in State 28.30 miles; value of entire roadway, roadbed and rails in state not given; system not yet in operation.

William R. Hearst will not go on the delegates' train. If his speech is of time he will reach this city tomorrow morning and will start at once for Chicago to meet the State leaders, who will be in Chicago on Sunday, to tell them that under no consideration will he consent to be the nominee for the Presidency.

See That Your Name Is on Great Register

If you wish to vote at the coming election in November and have not already registered, neglect that duty no longer.

If you registered last year that does not entitle you to vote this year. You must have registered since the beginning of the year or you will lose your right to vote in November.

Do not put off your duty as a good citizen, but go at once to the county clerk's office and register.

In order to vote at the Presidential election in November, your name must be on the register not later than September 23.

All persons should remember that when they register they must state their party affiliation, otherwise they cannot vote at the primary under the law of the state.

If you have changed your residence since registering last year you cannot have a change made on certificate permitting you to vote at the primaries in August. You must register.

PRETENDED TO BE A HOLD-UP

Joker Just Escaped Being Shot
At by Police and Now Hides
From Arrest to Merriment of Friends.

Jack Crowder, an amateur pugilist, not only narrowly escaped being shot by Policeman Tom Wood Tuesday night for having participated in a hold-up which was perpetrated for the purpose of frightening one of his friends, but he is now in hiding from the police, being of the opinion that he is being sought for by detectives. The information has been sent out in an effort to get even with Crowder for the part he took in Tuesday night's game.

According to information given the police, Crowder and Lee Harris agreed to a hold-up scheme for the purpose of giving Joe Carash, a friend of the other parties, a good scare.

Tuesday evening as had been pre-arranged, Harris went with Carash through Jefferson square. Crowder was in the square with a mask over his face and a stick in his hands for a weapon. When Harris and Carash passed Crowder's hiding place, Crowder stepped out and ordered Harris and Carash to throw up their hands.

To carry out his part of the play, Harris struck out at high speed calling for help in a frightened voice. Carash was overcome with fright and stood with his hands high in the air. Just at this time Policeman Wood, who was passing through the square, was attracted to the scene by the call for help.

FLOURISHED REVOLVER.

He rushed up to Crowder, covering him with his revolver. Crowder, throwing off his mask, yelled at the top of his voice to Wood that the whole thing was a joke and then took to his heels. Fortunately Wood recognized Crowder and did not fire at his fleeing form. Carash made his way home shaking in every limb and in now venturing to get even on both Crowder and Harris.

"not much bigger than a piece of soap after a full day's washing." Miss Barry is to be at the Orpheum next week, having ventured into the "varieties" for a change, after several years of successful work in comic opera and musical comedy. She has been on the stage since she was three months old. Her uncle, George Conquest, of the Surrey Theatre, in London, happened to want a baby for one of his plays about this time in Katie's life and she was "borrowed" for the occasion.

She made several appearances after that, for the records of the time go to prove that she was an excellent baby actress. When she was fourteen years of age she attended a girls' school for a year and in this period of time learned all she knows about "education" except what was taught her by private tutors.

George Edwardes put her in one of his London companies, after her school days, and she made a distinct impression by "dying naturally." "Things ran along without notable incident until "The Chinese Honeymoon," in which she suddenly became the "toast of the town" wherever that company happened to play.

Miss Barry was married when nineteen years of age to Henry James Hillier, a London actor, but this was not so successful a move as other ventures had been. The pair dissolved partnership, Katie went to Australia and then retired from the stage for a while.

Now her life is summed up in the following brief philosophy:

"Art is long and I am short. I am on the stage because I like it. I like to work because it means money. When I have accumulated a competence I shall quit the stage, settle down on a nice little farm and raise pigs and chickens."

MAYOR'S AUTO HITS THE HIGH PLACES

Alameda's Municipal Head Tears
Up Thoroughfares in Speeding Machine.

ALAMEDA, July 24.—An evidence of the undiscriminating care which Superintendent of Streets Frodden takes of Alameda's thoroughfares, was given a day or so ago. Frodden told the story today, and says that he does not know whom the joke is on.

Frodden was driving along Santa Clara avenue in his buggy, superintending the oiling of the streets. As he went along he heard a rushing noise behind him, and found that it was an automobile coming onward at a terrific clip. "These auto men have no right tearing up the city's streets in this way," Frodden said to himself and became very indignant at the onrushing automobile whose identity was hidden by the clouds of dust he was raising. As the machine passed him, the superintendent shouted:

CALLS TO MAYOR.

"Say there, don't you know any better than to tear up the city's streets by running at such a rate?"

"The auto passed so quickly that its occupants could not have heard all of the late superintendent's speech, but through a rift in the cloud of dust, Frodden was astonished to see the face of Mayor Taylor bearing back at him.

"I guess the mayor thought that I was complimenting him on the speed of his machine," said Frodden, "for he looked tremendously pleased over something."

Frodden laughingly said in conclusion that he didn't know whether the joke was on him or on the mayor. "At any rate," he said, "we should all of us protect Alameda's streets."

OBVIOUSLY.

"Aunt Heaps, what do they use 'invisible hairpins' for?"
"To fasten up invisible hair, of course, child."

ALLEGED CRUEL STUDENT FREED

Jury Finds That Lewis E. Scott
Did Not Throw Acid on Dogs.

BERKELEY, July 24.—Lewis E. Scott, a student charged with cruelty to animals for the alleged throwing of acid on the pet dogs of Miss Helen M. Black, daughter of Contractor H. H. Black, living at 1920 Delaware street, was acquitted by a jury in Judge Edgar's court last night.

The case was bitterly fought and consumed the entire day. Mrs. Black, Miss Helen Black, Miss Hattie A. Moulton, Humane Officer P. J. Rogers and G. C. Winchell were among the witnesses for the prosecution. Scott admitted that he used acid, but declared he was protecting himself from the animals, which were vicious and had repeatedly threatened him on previous visits when delivering groceries for a local store.

Scott is a student in the Christian Church Seminary and lives at 2019 Delaware street.
